Delay Looms For Opening Schools Here

Custodians' Strike May Prevent Start Sept. 4 As Planned

Because of problems resulting from the custodians' strike, school officials announced today that in all probability the scheduled opening of classes in the East Liverpool public school system will be delayed beyond Sept. 4.

Supt. Paul Blair, who cut short his vacation because of the dispute, is back at his desk.

Meetings with the custodians failed to bring a settlement in the walkout which began last Wednesday.

The latest proposal of the board of education was rejected Saturday afternoon by Local 677 State, County and Municipal Employes and there are no plans at present for further meetings with the custodians, school officials said.

The next move will have to originate with the union, they indicated.

The proposal presented the union committee Saturday included a new starting salary for custodians of $4,400 and increments of $50 a year for 12 years retroactive to the first day back to work when additional money becomes available.

It offered the high school and Westgate head custodian a starting salary of $5,200, with $50 increments a year for 12 years, retroactive to the first day back to work when additional money becomes available.

The proposal called for the creation of a fact-finding board consisting of two persons selected by the board of education, two selected by Local 677 and a fifth selected by the other four.

The vacation schedule would be open to negotiation pending

Neighbors came to Miss Caltagirone's rescue and pried her from Leone's grip. Police arrived next and arrested him. He remained in jail today.

Fire Loss Here Set At $10,000

A fire department investigation Sunday afternoon set a damage estimate of $10,000 and pinpointed faulty wiring as the cause of a blaze which raged through the attic of a Maplewood home Saturday about 4:05 p.m., Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne reported.

One fireman was injured and two others were made ill by smoke and heat as the department battled the stubborn flames at the home of Atty. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Smith Jr. at 2504 St. Clair Ave.

Asst. Chief Gerald Goodballet was admitted to City Hospital after suffering smoke inhalation and was released Sunday. Firemen Richard Bissell and Adolphus Knott were taken to Osteopathic Hospital, Bissell suffering from heat exhaustion and Knott with a puncture wound of the foot suffered when he stepped on a nail.

Chief Alfred VanDyne said a crew of approximately 10 men spent two hours in confining and then extinguishing the blaze. The fire was confined almost entirely to the attic area and the roof of the 2½-story frame, but the first and second floors suffered water and smoke damage.

Much of the furniture and other belongings were saved from loss or damage by volunteers who helped empty the lower floors of the home as the firemen worked on the roof and the attic. The furniture and other possessions were stored temporarily in nearby homes and other buildings.

VanDyne said the firemen were hampered by intense smoke and heat and also had difficulty getting at the center of the blaze. Four pumpers and the emergency truck were at the scene. Off-duty men and the chief — who is on vacation — also responded.

The blaze was discovered by Isabel Smith, a 14- - year - old daughter, who was watching television in an upstairs bedroom. She heard the crackle of flames, ran downstairs then checked the outside. Upon returning to the upstairs, she saw smoke coming from the attic area and called the fire department.

Lost in the blaze was some furniture stored in the attic, along with other furnishings.

Firemen used 650 feet of 2½-inch hose, 650 feet of 1½ and four booster lines.

Girl, 5, 'Satisfactory' With Transplanted Heart

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Within hours after her heart transplant, Maria Giannaris, 5, was awake, alert and able to visit with her parents.

The Hagerstown, Md., girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick A. Giannaris, was reported in satisfactory condition at Texas Children's Hospital today.

She became the second child recipient in history Sunday when surgeons transferred the heart of another youngster who had suffered brain hemorrhage. The girl was the world's 31st heart recipient.

The donor was James Dudley Herron II, 11-year-old son of James Dudley Herron, a chemistry professor at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Young Herron suffered a brain hemorrhage Friday and lapsed into a coma. When Dr. Robert Carpenter, the family physician, told the parents the boy was a potential heart donor, they agreed to his transfer to Houston.

The boy was flown here early Sunday and died several hours later without regaining consciousness.

Maria was referred to the Texas Heart Institute by the cardiac clinic at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, where her case was diagnosed as severe heart failure.

The girl had been in Texas Children's Hospital three weeks before the operation.

Her father, who owns a restaurant at the Hagerstown Airport, said Maria was 5½ months old when doctors discovered she had heart disease.

Town Evacuated By North Vietnam Units During Night

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops slipped out of embattled Tay Ninh today after losing more than 200 dead in a series of blazing fights with allied troops, tanks and artillery in and around the key provincial capital Sunday.

An American armored column and South Vietnamese soldiers swept through the city today and reported encountering no resistance.

The battle for Tay Ninh brought to a pitch four days of hard fighting from the Mekong Delta north to Da Nang, that shattered a two-month lull in the ground war.

U.S. officers in Tay Ninh said some 500 North Vietnamese regulars—mainstays of the attacking force—slipped out under the cover of darkness through an armored trap set up outside the city.

The fighting in and around Tay Ninh—a city of 200,000 population, 45 miles northwest of Saigon—was considered serious by the allies, but military sources said it was too early to say whether it signaled the start of the third major offensive of the year threatened by the enemy high command.

North Vietnam's official newspaper, Nhan Dan, called today for "a new and more violent offensive to wrest military victories from the enemy."

The plea was keyed to the 23rd anniversary of the Aug. 19, 1945, start of the rebellion which climaxed in the French defeat at Dien Bien Phu in 1954.

The new fighting likely will prompt an exchange of accusations between North Vietnamese and American negotiators when the Paris peace talks reconvene Wednesday.

Some observers had interpreted the two-month lull in the war as a sign of de-escalation on Hanoi's part. But U.S. officials had insisted all along that the enemy command was deliverately avoiding contact with allied

C. M. Brown Resigns Post As Inspector

Chester M. Brown resigned effective Saturday, from the post of city zoning and building inspector to which he was appointed in May, Mayor George E. Willshaw announced today.

Brown has taken a job with Builders Co., Inc., of Youngstown, contractor for the high-rise apartment to provide housing for the elderly which the Metropolitan Housing Authority is erecting on a West End site.

Brown did not give any reason for his resignation in a brief letter to the mayor and Don Eckert, city planning coordinator.

"It is with regret I find it necessary to resign the position of zoning and building inspector," the letter said. "If in the future I can be of assistance, please feel free to call upon me." Brown also thanked Willshaw and Eckert for their "consideration and cooperation" in his service with the city.

The mayor indicated he already is taking steps to fill the vacancy. The job was created early this year by Council to enforce new ordinances on zoning and building and housing codes.

The appointee draws $2,000 a year as zoning inspector and $4,000 as building and housing inspector. The appropriation also provides a $675 - a - year car allowance and $1,000 for incidental official expenses.

The inspector works out of the coordinator's office on the second floor of City Hall.

Ike Still 'Critically Ill,' Heart Spasms Continuing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower remains in "extremely critical" condition and has suffered numerous episodes of irregular heart action since Sunday night, Army doctors reported today.

Doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital said an electrical pacemaker, inserted earlier into the heart of the five-star general, had been removed after it failed to stop the spasms.

The recurring irregularities, doctors said earlier, constitute a "constant and critical hazard" to Eisenhower's survival.

The text of a morning medical bulletin:

"General Eisenhower's condition remains extremely critical. The electrical pacemaker was removed late yesterday because of its demonstrated ineffectiveness after the initial few hours.

"Since last night's bulletin numerous episodes of ventricular irregularity have occurred, most of only a few seconds duration but two requiring electrical conversion.

"Despite this, the general remains alert, converses briefly, and enjoyed a small breakfast. He is visited briefly from time to time by members of the immediate family, at his request.

"Mrs. Eisenhower has remained calm during these past trying days, and has received comfort and support from her sister, Mrs. Gordon Moore, who together with Col. John Eisenhower and his family have been constantly with her."

Doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital in a bulletin issued Sunday night said the 77-year-old five-star general was resting comfortably without pain, but "remains critically ill" after suffering two more spasms following insertion of an electrical pacmeaker.

The bulletin read:

"Gen. Eisenhower remains critically ill. Electrical pacing by means of a transvenous catheter has been ineffective in suppressing the episodes of ventricular irregularity. Two more, each quickly reverting to normal, have occurred since the afternoon bulletin.

"Vital signs, in the interval between these episodes, have remained essentially stable. The general is not in pain, is resting comfortably, and sleeps intermittently.

"Members of the immediate family remain in close attendance and have seen the general at intervals."

The use of the pacemaker was the latest of several efforts made to halt the spasms which have recurred since Eisenhower suffered his seventh heart attack Friday.

There were eight such spasms between the time of the attack and the Sunday night medical bulletin.

Convention Fight Seen On Vietnam

HHH, McCarthy Differ On Coalition Involving Viet Cong

CHICAGO (AP) — Supporters of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy fire opening rounds today in a propaganda battle over delegate seating and platform planks for next week's Democratic nominating convention.

Humphrey, predicting his own nomination for president on the first ballot, called for the kind of "forward looking, labor-Democratic coalition" he said can lick a Republican ticket headed by Richard M. Nixon in November.

The vice president lashed out at Nixon. He said the former vice president's record was one synonymous with "reaction, retrenchment and retreat."

Nixon Sees Victory

Nixon, greeted by a crowd of about 1,000 persons when he flew into Springfield, Ill., from California Sunday night, asserted that "we're going to carry Illinois and we're going to carry the nation." He lost Illinois narrowly in 1960.

Humphrey said in a speech prepared for the United Steelworkers convention that he is coming back to Chicago next week to fight for the dream of Samuel Gompers and other labor leaders of "full and equal opportunity for all."

Humphrey predicted that "we can have a real peace emerging from the kind of hard bargaining that produced a nuclear test ban treaty and a nonproliferation treaty . . . the kind of encounter that will, I am confident, bring lasting peace in Vietnam."

The steelworkers, 1.2 million members strong and the biggest union in the AFL-CIO, is expected to give the endorsement of its 3,500-delegate convention to the vice president's quest for the top Democratic nomination.

Japan Fears 104 Dead In Bus Disaster

GIFU, Japan (AP) — Rescuers saw no hope today that 72 persons missing after two buses were swept into a rain swollen river by a landslide would be found alive.

Officials feared the tragedy would become the worst of its kind in history, with 104 deaths. Thus far 32 bodies have been recovered. Three persons, including the driver of one of the buses, swam to safety before the buses sank in 65 feet of water Sunday.

Prime Minister Eisaku Sato today ordered government investigators to help pinpoint responsibility for the accident.

Initial reports said most of the passengers were women and children who were on a weekend outing to the Japan Alps.

The worst bus accident recorded to date occurred in Manila, the Philippines on Jan. 6, 1967, when two buses collided killing 83 persons.

Japan Fears 104 Dead In Bus Disaster

GIFU, Japan (AP) — Rescuers saw no hope today that 72 persons missing after two buses were swept into a rain swollen river by a landslide would be found alive.

Officials feared the tragedy would become the worst of its kind in history, with 104 deaths. Thus far 32 bodies have been recovered. Three persons, including the driver of one of the buses, swam to safety before the buses sank in 65 feet of water Sunday.

Prime Minister Eisaku Sato today ordered government investigators to help pinpoint responsibility for the accident.

Initial reports said most of the passengers were women and children who were on a weekend outing to the Japan Alps.

The worst bus accident recorded to date occurred in Manila, the Philippines on Jan. 6, 1967, when two buses collided killing 83 persons.

Officers Cite Driver After Hill Rd. Crash

Police cited a Beaver County man on a public intoxication charge early today after his auto veered off the west end of the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." and crashed into the guardrails.

Jessie Collins, 43, of Post Office Box 84, Smiths Ferry, escaped injury when his 1962 sedan went out of control at 1:37 a.m. 1,000 feet east of Ravine St. He was cited on the intoxication charge by Patrolman James Buckley.

The collision damaged the right front of Collins' car and three sections of the guardrail. The motorist told the officer he apparently did not straighten his wheels after rounding a curve while driving east.

A woman's car was damaged in a hit-skip collision Saturday at 1:15 p.m. on St. Clair Ave. 75 feet north of Midway Ln.

Evelyn Louise Jolly, 40, of 607½ Belmar Ave. told officers the left rear fender and bumper of her southbound 1963 four-door sedan were damaged when struck by a northbound auto which did not stop. She said she was waiting to turn left into an ice cream stand when the northbound car, passing other autos, struck her vehicle. She turned around and gave pursuit, but was unable to catch the hit-skip vehicle.

A mishap on Market St. near Summit Ln. Saturday at 2 p.m. involved a taxi of the Yellow Cab Co. driven by Robert W. Balch, 22, of 679 Riley Ave. and a 1968 four - door sedan operated by John Gatchell, 62, of the Newell Rd., Chester.

Balch had just picked up passengers at the curb and Gatchell was driving south on Market St., officers said. There was damage to the left front fender of the taxi and the left side of the auto, officers said.

Johnson Attends Church Services

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, remaining at his Texas ranch with no plans announced for the week, is keeping informed through his own medical staff on former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's condition.

With miniskirted daughter Luci Nugent in tow, the chief executive attended two Sunday church services and heard prayers for himself and Eisenhower.

Eisenhower is in critical condition in Washington's Walter Reed Army Hospital, suffering from his seventh heart attack.

Johnson went first to St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic Church in Stonewall, a couple of miles from his hill country ranch. The pastor, the Rev. Wunibald W. Schneider, prayed for Johnson and for all political candidates and national convention delegates.

At Trinity Lutheran church, across the Pedernales River from the ranch property, the Rev. Norman C. Truesdell in his prayer said "we especially petition Thou would watch over the dearly beloved Dwight David Eisenhower."

Mrs. Johnson did not attend either service. She is an Episcopalian, her husband is a member of the Christian Church and Luci is a convert to Catholicism.

Ohio Court Gets Wallace Vote Bid

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—David J. Young, a Columbus attorney for presidential candidate George C. Wallace, states the former Alabama governor's case today for inclusion on the Ohio ballot.

Young will present Wallace's arguments here before a panel of three federal judges.

The judges will hear Wallace's case before ruling on the constitutionality of Ohio's electoral laws.

Wallace contends that Ohio laws are unconstitutional because they effectively prevent any but the two major parties being represented on the Ohio ballot. Similar arguments were made before the judges last week on behalf of a would-be U. S. Senate candidate of the Socialist Labor Party.

Payoff Probe Delayed By Jury In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Federal grand jury hearings on alleged income tax evasion connected with possible gambling payoffs to city officials and police are not expected to resume until mid-September.

Justice Department officials would not comment on the progress made by the grand jury so far. Several witnesses were called last week.

Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner and other officials mentioned in the probe said the length of time the jury has spent hearing the case without returning an indictment indicates the federal case is unsound.

One official countered that the delay was due to the absence from the city of U. S. District Judge Joseph Kinneary.

Willis, Rarick Due Run-Offs In Louisiana Voting

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Rep. Edwin E. Willis, a congressman for more than 20 years, and freshman Rep. John R. Rarick have been forced into next month's runoff primaries in their efforts to seek renomination.

Sen. Russell B. Long and five other incumbent congressmen won renomination without runoffs as they gained majority votes in Saturday's Democratic primary elections in Louisiana.

Patrick Caffery, 35, a New Iberia attorney, and former state representative, capitalized on his youth and a theme that new leadership is needed in Washington in forcing Willis into the Sept. 2 runoff in the 3rd District.

Although Willis, 64, chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, received 47 per cent of the vote, Caffery picked up 39 per cent. The other two opponents, C. J. LaBauve Jr. and Warren J. Moity, hail from Caffery's home parish.

In the 6th District, Rarick, a former state district court judge, came within about 3,000 votes of a first-primary victory. His opponent in the runoff will be Ossie B. Brown, a Baton Rouge attorney who got 21 per cent of the vote and edged former state Rep. Joe Keogh for the second spot by about 1,600 votes.

Stokes May Get Support As Veep

GARY, Ind. (AP)—A Negro newspaper publisher said Sunday he plans to nominate Mayor Carl B. Stokes of Cleveland as the Democratic vice presidential candidate.

Edward James, editor and publisher of the Gary American, said he sent telegrams to Democratic National Chairman John Bailey, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota.

James will attend the convention, which begins Aug. 26 in Chicago, as an alternate delegate from Indiana.

"The Republican convention at Miami has written off the Negro vote in America, but with Stokes as a running mate for Humphrey or McCarthy black America will have a place in the mainstream of America's progress," James said in the telegram.

Dayan Blasts Jews In Riot At Jerusalem

JERUSALEM (AP) — Defense Minister Moshe Dayan toured the Arab quarter of Jerusalem today and said that Jews who rioted against Arabs in the Old City Sunday night "were collaborating with the enemy."

The Holy City was wracked by a wave of violence Sunday night touched off by three grenade explosions that wounded nine Israelis, two seriously.

Gangs of Israelis, mainly teen-agers, swept into the Arab quarter, seeking revenge. They smashed store and car windows and set one car ablaze, and attacked Arabs. Several Arabs were injured one seriously, informed sources said. Riot police dispersed the Israelis after an hour's rampage.

Mayor Teddy Kollek and the minister of police, Eliahu Sasson, condemned the Israeli violence.

Dayan's tour of the Old City was described as a demonstration to both sides that Jerusalem "still remains united." He called on both Arab and Jew to "remain friends."

He told newsmen "criminal elements" were responsible for the grenade blasts and not the Arab population as a whole. He said the culprits will be "dealt with as criminals."

Sasson told newsmen: "We will not defeat the saboteurs by permitting innocent persons (Arabs) to be harmed."

Police equipped with night sticks, shields and steel helmets closed all seven gates to the Old City and allowed nobody through.

Informed sources said some 30 Arabs and 20 Israelis—mostly young people—were arrested during the disturbances.

Explosions occurred in the city bus station, in a gas station near the railroad station and at the intersection of King George and Allenby roads after police found two unexploded grenades outside a movie theater and in a public toilet.

In other Middle East developments:

Israeli and Jordanian troops exchanged machine-gun and artillery fire Sunday afternoon across the Jordan River, near the Allenby Bridge, about 15 miles north of the Dead Sea. Each side said the other started the shooting which lasted almost an hour. No casualties were reported.

Ohio Youth Drowns

the report of the fact-finding board as would additional insurance benefits.

In the event of a rental activity at any school, an extra employe would be on duty to provide whatever services are needed.

An overtime over eight hours and over 40 hours would be paid in salary at the rate of time and a half.

Any overtime work required because of school or outside activities would go first to a custodian from that building in which the activity was taking place, in the following order: Another full-time custodian regularly assigned to that building who is not on regular duty while extra services are needed; other available full - time custodians from within the East Liverpool school system, and third, extra or part-time custodians in the event no full-time custodian was available.

When questioned this morning, Assistant Supt. Carl Pelini said, "As I see it now, it looks very probable that we will not be able to open school Sept. 4."

He pointed out many suppliers of desks and equipment were calling relative to the situation. They had to be informed the strike was not settled, and this, of course, will delay shipments. "This further compounds the problem of opening school on Sept. 4," Pelini added.

When questioned about a report that the board was considering firing all custodians and hiring a maintenance and cleaning team, Board President Samuel Brown declared no such discussion was held Saturday.

kins "told me the heart transplant was our only hope," Giannaris said.

"He told me his hospital wouldn't be prepared for transplant operations for at least another six months and he couldn't answer whether my daughter could live another six months."

Giannaris said a young patient dying last Wednesday at Texas Children's Hospital could have provided the heart, but the parents would not allow the operation.

"On Thursday my baby got so sick the doctors didn't think she would live," he said. "And on Saturday they told us just to pray."

Giannaris said he met the donor's father, James Dudley Herron, at the hospital Sunday.

"When I saw the boy's father at the door, it seemed like I had known him all my life," Giannaris said. "He said 'we have three boys and we've always wanted a little girl, so now we are going to have one and we can share her with you' "

Mr. and Mrs. Giannaris have another daughter, Tessie.

A surgical team led by Dr. Denton A. Cooley performed the operation in 105 minutes, a spokesman said. The implanted heart started without electrical stimulation.

"The hearts were the same size," the spokesman said. "The little girl's heart was overworked because it was diseased. Like any overworked muscle it was enlarged."

The first child to receive a transplanted heart died 6½ hours after the operation at Maimonides Medical Center in Brooklyn, N.Y., last December. The recipient was a 2½-week-old boy who received the heart of a 2-day-old infant.

Cooley, who was vacationing in Mexico with his family, flew back to Houston for the latest transplant.

Four other heart transplant recipients are recuperating in St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, which adjoins the children's hospital. Two other persons with new hearts have been released and are working in Houston. Two recipients here died.

regular twitching of the muscles in the heart's lower chamber, are known medically as ventricular fibrillation.

Walter Reed doctors blame Eisenhower's spasms on the "serious underlying disease of the heart."

At the general's side were his wife Mamie, his son John and three grandchildren; Barbara Anne, Susan Elaine and David.

Although the doctors did not detail how the pacemaker was installed the usual method entails inserting a thin tube with two tiny electrodes at its tip into a vein and gently sliding it throrgh the body into the heart.

Usually a vein in an arm is used, but sometimes it is a neck vein.

In the Sunday afternoon bulletin there were indications that the pacemaker had succeeded in suppressing the spasms. The doctors said then that though gravely ill Eisenhower was alert, in command of all his senses and had "retained his keen sense of humor."

There was no indication of what was meant by the sense of humor reference.

Eisenhower, president from 1953 to 1961, suffered his first heart attack in 1955. He had two attacks in 1965 and incurred four more this year, starting last April 29 when he was stricken at his California home.

He was taken to Walter Reed to recuperate from the April attack and has suffered the last three seizures while in the Washington hospital.

The possibility that a heart transplant could be performed on Eisenhower was discounted today by Dr. Christiaan Barnard, the man who first performed such an operation.

Speaking in Bangkok, Thailand, Barnard said Eisenhower would have been an ideal transplant patient if he were younger, but the operation probably would be fatal now.

Robert Louis Stevenson spent his honeymoon in Napa Valley.

efforts of McCarthy's men to steam up the sort of "fair play" controversy over delegates that helped Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower win the Republican nomination from Sen. Robert A. Taft in 1952.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., one of Humphrey's campaign directors, called reporters together to explain that the vice president really wants an open convention. Mondale said the McCarthy effort to challenge the seating of Humphrey delegates constituted an effort by a candidate who doesn't have enough votes to win the nomination to "disrupt" the convention.

"We want an open convention with fair debate," he said. "We want to go the last mile but we are not prepared to forfeit victory to prove that we are fair." He added that McCarthy was engaged in "a childish venture to challenge the validity of this convention."

Don McClure, McCarthy's press secretary, told a separate news conference that it wasn't true, as Humphrey's men charged, that the Minnesota senator was trying to block out any "vast proportion" of the vice president's delegate supporters. McClure said the McCarthy camp was responsible for less than one-third of the delegate challenges and contests.

Dayan Blasts Jews In Riot At Jerusalem

JERUSALEM (AP) — Defense Minister Moshe Dayan toured the Arab quarter of Jerusalem today and said that Jews who rioted against Arabs in the Old City Sunday night "were collaborating with the enemy."

The Holy City was wracked by a wave of violence Sunday night touched off by three grenade explosions that wounded nine Israelis, two seriously.

Gangs of Israelis, mainly teen-agers, swept into the Arab quarter, seeking revenge. They smashed store and car windows and set one car ablaze, and attacked Arabs. Several Arabs were injured one seriously, informed sources said. Riot police dispersed the Israelis after an hour's rampage.

Mayor Teddy Kollek and the minister of police, Eliahu Sasson, condemned the Israeli violence.

Dayan's tour of the Old City was described as a demonstration to both sides that Jerusalem "still remains united." He called on both Arab and Jew to "remain friends."

He told newsmen "criminal elements" were responsible for the grenade blasts and not the Arab population as a whole. He said the culprits will be "dealt with as criminals."

Sasson told newsmen: "We will not defeat the saboteurs by permitting innocent persons (Arabs) to be harmed."

Police equipped with night sticks, shields and steel helmets closed all seven gates to the Old City and allowed nobody through.

Informed sources said some 30 Arabs and 20 Israelis—mostly young people—were arrested during the disturbances.

Explosions occurred in the city bus station, in a gas station near the railroad station and at the intersection of King George and Allenby roads after police found two unexploded grenades outside a movie theater and in a public toilet.

In other Middle East developments:

Israeli and Jordanian troops exchanged machine-gun and artillery fire Sunday afternoon across the Jordan River, near the Allenby Bridge, about 15 miles north of the Dead Sea. Each side said the other started the shooting which lasted almost an hour. No casualties were reported.

Ohio Youth Drowns

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— A suburban Reynoldsburg youth drowned Sunday in a water-filled pit where he had gone to swim. The body of John Tolliver, 17, was recovered by the Columbus Fire Department after more than an hour of dragging.

the report of the fact-finding board as would additional insurance benefits.

In the event of a rental activity at any school, an extra employe would be on duty to provide whatever services are needed.

An overtime over eight hours and over 40 hours would be paid in salary at the rate of time and a half.

Any overtime work required because of school or outside activities would go first to a custodian from that building in which the activity was taking place, in the following order: Another full-time custodian regularly assigned to that building who is not on regular duty while extra services are needed; other available full - time custodians from within the East Liverpool school system, and third, extra or part-time custodians in the event no full-time custodian was available.

When questioned this morning, Assistant Supt. Carl Pelini said, "As I see it now, it looks very probable that we will not be able to open school Sept. 4."

He pointed out many suppliers of desks and equipment were calling relative to the situation. They had to be informed the strike was not settled, and this, of course, will delay shipments. "This further compounds the problem of opening school on Sept. 4," Pelini added.

When questioned about a report that the board was considering firing all custodians and hiring a maintenance and cleaning team, Board President Samuel Brown declared no such discussion was held Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Giannaris have another daughter, Tessie.

A surgical team led by Dr. Denton A. Cooley performed the operation in 105 minutes, a spokesman said. The implanted heart started without electrical stimulation.

"The hearts were the same size," the spokesman said. "The little girl's heart was overworked because it was diseased. Like any overworked muscle it was enlarged."

The first child to receive a transplanted heart died 6½ hours after the operation at Maimonides Medical Center in Brooklyn, N.Y., last December. The recipient was a 2½-week-old boy who received the heart of a 2-day-old infant.

Cooley, who was vacationing in Mexico with his family, flew back to Houston for the latest transplant.

Four other heart transplant recipients are recuperating in St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, which adjoins the children's hospital. Two other persons with new hearts have been released and are working in Houston. Two recipients here died.

kins "told me the heart transplant was our only hope," Giannaris said.

"He told me his hospital wouldn't be prepared for transplant operations for at least another six months and he couldn't answer whether my daughter could live another six months."

Giannaris said a young patient dying last Wednesday at Texas Children's Hospital could have provided the heart, but the parents would not allow the operation.

"On Thursday my baby got so sick the doctors didn't think she would live," he said. "And on Saturday they told us just to pray."

Giannaris said he met the donor's father, James Dudley Herron, at the hospital Sunday.

"When I saw the boy's father at the door, it seemed like I had known him all my life," Giannaris said. "He said 'we have

Walter Reed doctors blame Eisenhower's spasms on the "serious underlying disease of the heart."

At the general's side were his wife Mamie, his son John and three grandchildren; Barbara Anne, Susan Elaine and David.

Although the doctors did not detail how the pacemaker was installed the usual method entails inserting a thin tube with two tiny electrodes at its tip into a vein and gently sliding it throrgh the body into the heart.

Usually a vein in an arm is used, but sometimes it is a neck vein.

In the Sunday afternoon bulletin there were indications that the pacemaker had succeeded in suppressing the spasms. The doctors said then that though gravely ill Eisenhower was alert, in command of all his senses and had "retained his keen sense of humor."

There was no indication of what was meant by the sense of humor reference.

Eisenhower, president from 1953 to 1961, suffered his first heart attack in 1955. He had two attacks in 1965 and incurred four more this year, starting last April 29 when he was stricken at his California home.

He was taken to Walter Reed to recuperate from the April attack and has suffered the last three seizures while in the Washington hospital.

The possibility that a heart transplant could be performed on Eisenhower was discounted today by Dr. Christiaan Barnard, the man who first performed such an operation.

Speaking in Bangkok, Thailand, Barnard said Eisenhower would have been an ideal transplant patient if he were younger, but the operation probably would be fatal now.

efforts of McCarthy's men to steam up the sort of "fair play" controversy over delegates that helped Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower win the Republican nomination from Sen. Robert A. Taft in 1952.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., one of Humphrey's campaign directors, called reporters together to explain that the vice president really wants an open convention. Mondale said the McCarthy effort to challenge the seating of Humphrey delegates constituted an effort by a candidate who doesn't have enough votes to win the nomination to "disrupt" the convention.

"We want an open convention with fair debate," he said. "We want to go the last mile but we are not prepared to forfeit victory to prove that we are fair." He added that McCarthy was engaged in "a childish venture to challenge the validity of this convention."

Don McClure, McCarthy's press secretary, told a separate news conference that it wasn't true, as Humphrey's men charged, that the Minnesota senator was trying to block out any "vast proportion" of the vice president's delegate supporters. McClure said the McCarthy camp was responsible for less than one-third of the delegate challenges and contests.

The Mission Impossible?

"Delay" seems to be the motto — obviously unintended — of the Columbiana County Airport Authority in its efforts to start construction of the new facility near Glenmoor.

The Authority, formed in 1965, indicated early in 1966 executive type planes might be flying in and out of the county airport by 1967 if its plans developed as intended.

Surveying, obstaining the financing, meeting state and federal requirements and a number of other obstacles prevented achievement of that goal.

Seemingly the paperwork was finally cleared and Vincent Laneve, Authority president, announced in January this year work might be started in March. But bids weren't opened until April 15, and final clearing of titles dragged on and on.

Last week the Federal Aviation Administration brought up another of its many demands for clearances — this time a utility easement release — and the man who was awarded the bid declared he no longer could handle the project because of increased construction costs since April.

Chalk it up to inexperience, lack of initiative, carelessness about details, too much federal agency revising, poor luck, foot - dragging, whatever, it means costly delay, opportunity lost, promises unkept.

We hope the current problem can be met without too much expense shouldered by the taxpayers, and that by the early summer of 1969, there will be a county airport in operation. But don't count on it. . .

Salute To 'Stars'

There is no substitute for victory, whether in war, marbles or baseball.

But the successes compiled by the East Liverpool Colt League All-Stars through the tournament trail all the way to California and the Colt World Series are justification for a major tribute from all the other teams, coaches and sports enthusiasts of every caliber.

These boys did not go "all the way." But their heart and determination and the way they carried the name of East Liverpool to the ultimate height in their league warrants a community salute and a sincere "thanks' for a challenge met with the best they could do—and that was almost the best in the nation.

Hope Still Springs Eternal

Youth does not have exclusive rights to militancy.

From Chicago comes the story of a wife awarded a divorce because her husband clobbered her when they couldn't agree on what television program to watch.

Both are 80 years old.

But that is no reason for despair. From St. Louis comes the romantic story of Joseph Yedlicka who met the girl of his dreams and one week later wanted to marry her.

His family rebelled.

So Joseph and his lady love eloped and were married despite protestations by the family.

Joseph is 84 and his bride is 70.

You see, there is still hope for the older generation.

Consider It Interest On Account

Cambodia's demand that the United States hand over 14 bulldozers for the return of an American landing craft, 11 American crewmen and one South Vietnamese is nothing less than preposterous.

The landing craft inadvertently strayed into Cambodian waters along the Mekong Delta July 17 and was seized by Cambodian gunboats.

THE OUTRAGEOUS DEMAND has been relayed to the United States through the Australian government. First reports indicated the U.S. would reject the offer.

The U.S. should make it clear right now that it will not be the victim of a blackmail scheme by a supposedly neutral nation that has been used since the inception of the Vietnam War as a staging and escape area for North Vietnamese units.

Cambodia's chief of state, Norodom Sihanouk, while presenting a face of neutrality to the world is in sympathy with the North Vietnamese cause and hides behind Red China in berating the U.S.

Red China has said it will not stand by with "arms folded" if the U.S. attempts to get tough with Cambodia.

A deal between Cambodia and Red China back in January should leave no doubt about the way things stand. Red China gave Cambodia 11 planes and antiaircraft guns.

When he accepted the equipment, Cambidian Premier Son Sann said the shipment from "our friend China . . . has great significance" in view of the "growing . . . threat of American trality and our territorial integrity."

THAT COUNTRY Premier Son Sann is afraid will abuse Cambodia's "neutrality" and ruthlessly disregard its territorial integrity, is the same America that has sent more than $342 million in foreign aid to his nation in the past 20 years

In return, the U.S. has never asked for anything more than a fair shake — in the case of outright grants, not even the return of the money was asked.

It is time for the U.S. government to lay it on the line to Cambodia by telling Prince Sihanouk that we want the ship and crew back right now and he can consider it interest on the account he owes the American people.

Rhetoric Record?

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The largest manufacturer of political rhetoric in the United States is Hiram Thesaurus, with whom I was fortunate to talk at the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach last week.

Art Buchwald

Thesaurus was standing in front of one of his retail stands taking inventory, when I asked him, "How's business?"

"Great," he said. "All the rhetoric-makers expect 1968 to be the biggest year we've ever had. We got off to a good start at the Republic convention, and there is no reason why we shouldn't do as well or better in Chicago."

"What item has been moving best?"

" 'LAW AND ORDER' has been the biggest seller this year. We can't even keep the law and order rhetoric in stock. The minute it's put out on the counter, it's grabbed up."

"What else is selling?"

" 'Peace at home and abroad' is a very big item. I don't think there's a politician running for office this year who hasn't bought at least one. 'The crisis of the cities' is also moving very well, but the one that really surprised us was a piece of the action.'

We made a few as samples, and before we knew it everyone was using it to describe what the minorities wanted. I sold one to Barry Goldwater, one to Sen. Brooke and Nixon bought a gross from me wholesale. We've had so many orders on this one that a lot of politicians have to wait two weeks for delivery on it.'

"How's the 'cry for new leadership' going?"

"That's been a smash down here, of course, but we were prepared for it. I'm not too sure how well it will do in Chicago, though we have had advance orders on it from the McCarthy people."

"In the manufacture of political rhetoric, do you design your own phrases or do you just copy what's been used before?"

"Both. We have the standard rhetoric items such as 'fiscal responsibility' and 'politics of expediency' which the politicians use every four years. But we also have to come up with new rhetoric which will catch the ear of the voter."

"WELL, AS YOU remember, in 1964 a lot of political rhetoric was aimed against the press. This year we've designed rhetoric which will attack the Supreme Court. You can't imagine what a demand there is this year for 'coddling the criminals.' Another one which we came up with is 'Let's not ask what is wrong with America, but what's right with America.' "

"I see you have one there on the counter titled 'Tell it like it is.' "

"That's been selling like mad, almost as well as 'a man for our time.' Another big surprise is our 'erosion' kit. It comes in a set: 'erosion of the cities,' 'erosion of the dollar,' 'erosion of moral values' and 'erosion of America's prestige abroad.' We've also been doing well with 'rebuilding the urban and slum areas' and 'facing up to the challenges and responsibilities of the disenfranchised.' "

As we were talking, a politician came up with his campaign manager and said, "Do you have any more 'new and dynamic leadership' rhetoric?"

"Yes, sir," Thesaurus said. "How are you fixed for 'excessive federal spending'?"

"Give me whatever you've got. Do you have any rhetoric on the Pueblo?"

"WE'RE RUNNING a special on 'a fourth-rate military power humiliating the most powerful nation in the world.' "

"I'll take two."

"Right. Now what about 'one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all'?"

"No," said the politician, "I don't want to lose the South in my campaign."

'. . . And What Poll Do You Folks Believe?"

VICTOR RIESEL

No 'Two-Headed Government'

..NEW YORK — Certainly Hubert H. Humphrey will win it on the first ballot. But who will take it on the second?

Word from deep in the front runner's camp is that Mr. Humphrey will choose to run with someone who has created himself in Mr. Humphrey's own image.

Victor Riesel

There simply will be no effort to "balance" the ticket. The vice president, if elected, wants no "two-headed government." He will not choose someone from another region, another religion, another philosophy, simply to balance the ticket, unless he thinks and believes as does Hubert Humphrey.

This I was told bluntly, flatly and unequivocally by the ebullient 37-year-old senator from Oklahoma, Fred Harris, Mr. Humphrey's most active campaign manager.

As we talked he made it clear that Mr. Humphrey and his advisers are taking for granted the definitive "Shermanesque" words of Ted Kennedy, Mr. Harris' only junior in the U.S. Senate.

Who, then, on the record, thinks as Mr. Humphrey thinks? Or, who does Mr. Humphrey think thinks like himself? If the vice president shifts a little to the left, it could be Gene McCarthy, George McGovern or even Ted Kennedy.

Now that the vice presidency no longer is a post of escalated impotence, the second spot is a critical matter to Mr. Humphrey's most powerful sponsors, from whom will flow the money, the manpower, the caravans, the telephone squad work, the flares, scores of millions of pieces of literature, the broadcast financing, the actual "hardware" of a presidential campaign — namely, the labor movement.

ONE PHALANX of this embattled legion led by George Meany's AFL-CIO doesn't really care who Mr. Humphrey believes is created in his image so long as it's not Gene McCarthy.

Another bloc of "the troops," led by the newly united labor brethren, Frank Fitzsimmons and Walter Reuther, is for Gene McCarthy. For them he's political aspirin. He would cure their splitting headaches brought on by overdoses of Lyndon Johnson.

They're all now supporting Hubert Humphrey, who has been telephoning them from his Minnesota home, breakfasting with them in New York, consulting with them in Michigan, California and Washington.

But their private problem now is to influence his thinking. Walter Reuther, for example, wants Mr. Humphrey to go white as a dove and black as a ghetto.

The other day a reporter asked the usually insulated Walter Reuther whether he has been talking with the vice president.

"Yes, I'm pushing him hard on the Vietnam war," said the auto union leader. "He's got to come out against it or he can't win the election. I think he'll come out."

IF THAT'S HOW Humphrey starts thinking, it will be a natural for him to call his old friend, McCarthy, a latter-day Stevensonian, and say let's run together. Such a ticket would save Mr. Humphrey many a headache and demonstration. It also would give him the full support of Fitzsimmons' Brotherhood of Teamsters with which Sen. McCarthy has been very close indeed.

Thus if Reuther convinces Mr. Humphrey to flap sincerely like a dove, the auto union leader can effect the first united political action with the Teamsters. Furthermore, it would make everybody happy.

Reuther would unite his union which is split between Humphrey and McCarthy — and the Teamsters would have a friend high in the administration for the first time since Franklin D. Roosevelt.

On Saturday or Sunday night preceding the convention opening, the Reuther and Fitzsimmons forces, each with a contingent of convention delegates, will dine and caucus in a Chicago hotel.

But while they're "showing the flag" over roast beef, there will be another labor caucus, powerful indeed. This one is led by AFL-CIO President George Meany, who as about as much use for Gene McCarthy as he does for Leonid Brezhnev.

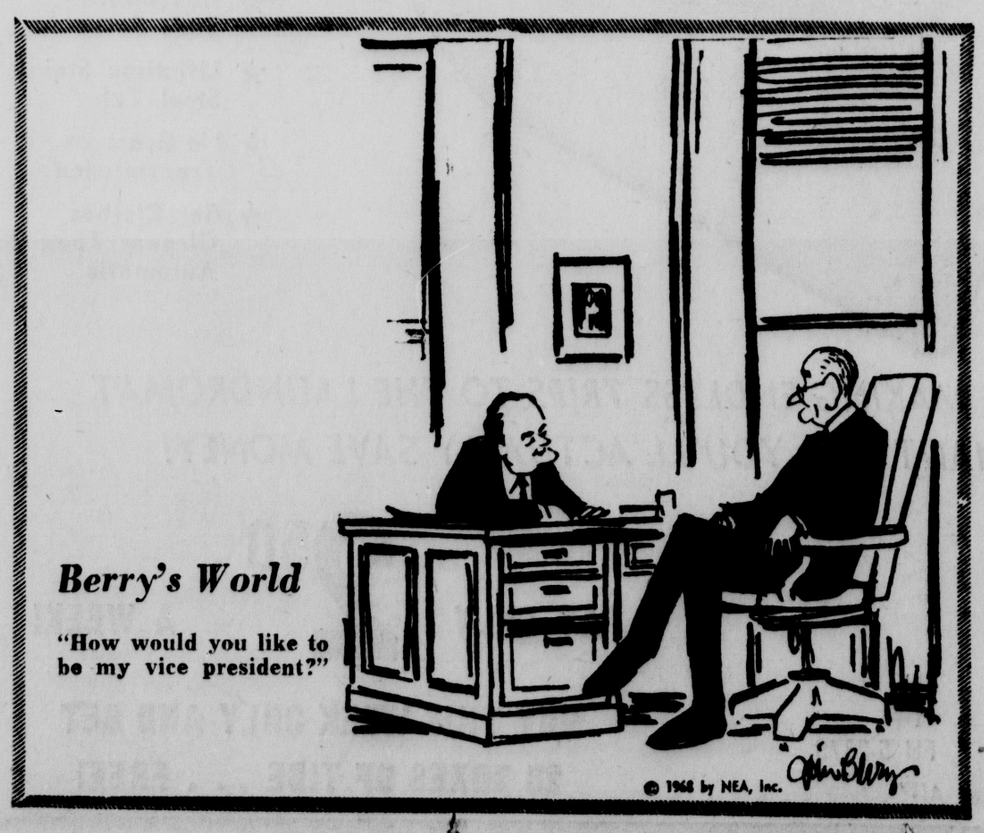

MR. MEANY is a very definite man. That's understatement. In his words, he wants peace but not appeasement. He does not want, nor do the 280 labor delegates and alternates, Mr. Humphrey to repudiates either Lyndon Johnson or the war. He wants to compromise with the Viet Cong.

He believes that "the imperialists are not in Washington; they are in Hanoi:

"Let the pickets and the protesters — yes, and the candidates — turn their attention there. Let them direct their condemnation and the pressure of opinion upon the one force primarily responsible for the continuation of the bloodshed — North Vietnam and its Viet Cong allies."

As for the ghettos, Mr. Meany demands social justice. But he's not afraid of demanding tough law and order too.

Obviously Hubert Humphrey will have to think fast about what he will do on the convention floor. Either way, he stands to lose some influential friends.

RAYMOND MOLEY

Days Of FDR

As we shall see when the Democarts complete their deliberations in Chicago in two weeks, it is difficult for idealistic intellectuals to accept the thorny realities of politics. In the early days of the republic, the political leaders themselves were an intellectual elite, but more recently academic people and practical politicians are uneasy partners.

Never has this painful lack of adjustment been so well documented as in a new book by Rexford G. Tugwell, "The Brains Trust" which is an account of his mental and emotional experience while serving Franklin Roosevelt in the campaign of 1932.

I VENTURE to comment upon this because I was his friend and academic colleague at that time. I knew of his frustration when I served with him. And I am one of the most-frequently mentioned characters in his book.

Rex's story begins when, because I recognized his outstanding talents, his grasp of the farm problem and his utter sincerity, I enlisted him early in April, 1932, in what became known as Roosevelt's Brains Trust.

His ideas were fairly radical, but he served as an intellectual stimulant to Mr. Roosevelt who realized that he must come up with fresh ideas to combat the depression.

Adolf Berle Jr. of the Columbia Law School was the second recruit, and we three managed the speeches up to the nomination in Chicago. The political professionals, Ed Flynn, James Farley and Louis Howe, went after the delegates and, like our policy group, reported directly but separately to the candidate. The two groups were never mixed.

After the nomination, Mr. Roosevelt and I recognized that we needed an infusion of practical economics and political experience. And so Gen. Hugh Johnson was borrowed from Bernard Baruch, and two senators, James F. Byrnes and Key Pittman, were invited to join me.

While there were considerable ideological differences within the enlarged group, all went well until sometime in September. F.D.R.'s hospitality to new ideas and his political skill constituted the glue that held us together. Tugwell's views on "agriculture" had been accepted by all. They called for national planning in that field. But Rex believed that planning should be advocated for industry as well. Here there were sharp differences because Johnson, Byrnes, Pittman and I believed that, with an infusion of confidence, industry would right itself. Rex carried his cause to Mr. Roosevelt and his present book recites his long arguments with him on the subject.

Moreover, by mid-September it was clear that the election was won. The practical course under those circumstances was to excite as little controversy as possible. We had already been fiercely accused of radical and dangerous designs. And we realized that the concept of planned industry would elicit little understanding and great opposition.

WE ALSO BELIEVED that it was best to keep Mr. Roosevelt's options open until after the election.

And so it was F.D.R.'s decision, in which I fully concurred, to keep his speeches safely within the bonds of orthodoxy. The only exception was the famous Commonwealth speech in San Francisco which was largely written by Berle.

This course deeply depressed Rex. And in all the years since and in this eloquent book he has voiced his regret. He says that while these doubts shook him on election day, "Nevertheless, I voted for him."

He also says that the reforms after the inauguration were but "pitiful patches." There was in these "an amazing resemblance to Hoover" who would have adopted most of them had he been free from the restrictions of a Democratic House and the tradtionalists in his own party.

We can never know what might have happened if Franklin Roosevelt had adopted the Tugwell plans. We do know that with his masterly capacity to inspire confidence in what he did do the Great Depression was licked. That has always been my answer to those who would have followed a different course.

We hope the current problem can be met without too much expense shouldered by the taxpayers, and that by the early summer of 1969, there will be a county airport in operation. But don't count on it. . .

Salute To 'Stars'

There is no substitute for victory, whether in war, marbles or baseball.

But the successes compiled by the East Liverpool Colt League All-Stars through the tournament trail all the way to California and the Colt World Series are justification for a major tribute from all the other teams, coaches and sports enthusiasts of every caliber.

These boys did not go "all the way." But their heart and determination and the way they carried the name of East Liverpool to the ultimate height in their league warrants a community salute and a sincere "thanks" for a challenge met with the best they could do—and that was almost the best in the nation.

Hope Still Springs Eternal

Youth does not have exclusive rights to militancy.

From Chicago comes the story of a wife awarded a divorce because her husband clobbered her when they couldn't agree on what television program to watch.

Both are 30 years old.

But that is no reason for despair. From St. Louis comes the romantic story of Joseph Yedlicka who met the girl of his dreams and one week later wanted to marry her.

His family rebelled.

So Joseph and his lady love eloped and were married despite protestations by the family.

Joseph is 84 and his bride is 70.

You see, there is still hope for the older generation.

Consider It Interest On Account

Cambodia's demand that the United States hand over 14 bulldozers for the return of an American landing craft, 11 American crewmen and one South Vietnamese is nothing less than preposterous.

The landing craft inadvertently strayed into Cambodian waters along the Mekong Delta July 17 and was seized by Cambodian gunboats.

THE OUTRAGEOUS DEMAND has been relayed to the United States through the Australian government. First reports indicated the U.S. would reject the offer.

The U.S. should make it clear right now that it will not be the victim of a blackmail scheme by a supposedly neutral nation that has been used since the inception of the Vietnam War as a staging and escape area for North Vietnamese units.

Cambodia's chief of state, Norodom Sihanouk, while presenting a face of neutrality to the world is in sympathy with the North Vietnamese cause and hides behind Red China in berating the U.S.

Red China has said it will not stand by with "arms folded" if the U.S. attempts to get tough with Cambodia.

A deal between Cambodia and Red China back in January should leave no doubt about the way things stand. Red China gave Cambodia 41 planes and antiaircraft guns.

When he accepted the equipment, Cambidian Premier Son Sann said the shipment from "our friend China . . . has great significance" in view of the "growing . . . threat of American trality and our territorial integrity."

THAT COUNTRY Premier Son Sann is afraid will abuse Cambodia's "neutrality" and ruthlessly disregard its territorial integrity, is the same America that has sent more than $342 million in foreign aid to his nation in the past 20 years

In return, the U.S. has never asked for anything more than a fair shake — in the case of outright grants, not even the return of the money was asked.

It is time for the U.S. government to lay it on the line to Cambodia by telling Prince Sihanouk that we want the ship and crew back right now and he can consider it interest on the account he owes the American people.

I'm not opposed to feeling people. In fact, in Sweden it is definitely an attractive idea. But I'll be damned if I'm willing to call it the worship of almighty God.

Rhetoric Record?

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The largest manufacturer of political rhetoric in the United States is Hiram Thesaurus, with whom I was fortunate to talk at the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach last week.

Art Buchwald

Thesaurus was standing in front of one of his retail stands taking inventory, when I asked him, "How's business?"

"Great," he said. "All the rhetoric-makers expect 1968 to be the biggest year we've ever had. We got off to a good start at the Republican convention, and there is no reason why we shouldn't do as well or better in Chicago."

"What item has been moving best?"

" 'LAW AND ORDER' has been the biggest seller this year. We can't even keep the law and order rhetoric in stock. The minute it's put out on the counter, it's grabbed up."

"What else is selling?"

" 'Peace at home and abroad' is a very big item. I don't think there's a politician running for office this year who hasn't bought at least one. 'The crisis of the cities' is also moving very well, but the one that really surprised us was 'a piece of the action.'

We made a few as samples, and before we knew it everyone was using it to describe what the minorities wanted. I sold one to Barry Goldwater, one to Sen. Brooke and Nixon bought a gross from me wholesale. We've had so many orders on this one that a lot of politicians have to wait two weeks for delivery on it.'

"How's the 'cry for new leadership' going?"

"That's been a smash down here, of course, but we were prepared for it. I'm not too sure how well it will do in Chicago, though we have had advance orders on it from the McCarthy people."

"In the manufacture of political rhetoric, do you design your own phrases or do you just copy what's been used before?"

"Both. We have the standard rhetoric items such as 'fiscal responsibility' and 'politics of expediency' which the politicians use every four years. But we also have to come up with new rhetoric which will catch the ear of the voter."

"WELL, AS YOU remember, in 1964 a lot of political rhetoric was aimed against the press. This year we've designed rhetoric which will attack the Supreme Court. You can't imagine what a demand there is this year for 'coddling the criminals.' Another one which we came up with is 'Let's not ask what is wrong with America, but what's right with America.' "

"I see you have one there on the counter titled 'Tell it like it is.' "

"That's been selling like mad, almost as well as 'a man for our time.' Another big surprise is our 'erosion' kit. It comes in a set: 'erosion of the cities,' 'erosion of the dollar,' 'erosion of moral values' and 'erosion of America's prestige abroad.' We've also been doing well with 'rebuilding the urban and slum areas' and 'facing up to the challenges and responsibilities of the disenfranchised.' "

As we were talking, a politician came up with his campaign manager and said, "Do you have any more 'new and dynamic leadership' rhetoric?"

"Yes, sir," Thesaurus said. "How are you fixed for 'excessive federal spending'?"

"Give me whatever you've got. Do you have any rhetoric on the Pueblo?"

"WE'RE RUNNING a special on 'a fourth-rate military power humiliating the most powerful nation in the world.' "

"I'll take two."

"Right. Now what about 'one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all'?"

"No," said the politician, "I don't want to lose the South in my campaign."

'. . . And What Poll Do You Folks Believe?'

VICTOR RIESEL

No 'Two-Headed Government'

NEW YORK — Certainly Hubert H. Humphrey will win it on the first ballot. But who will take it on the second?

Word from deep in the front runner's camp is that Mr. Humphrey will choose to run with someone who has created himself in Mr. Humphrey's own image.

Victor Riesel

There simply will be no effort to "balance" the ticket. The vice president, if elected, wants no "two-headed government." He will not choose someone from another region, another religion, another philosophy, simply to balance the ticket, unless he thinks and believes as does Hubert Humphrey.

This I was told bluntly, flatly and unequivocally by the ebullient 37-year-old senator from Oklahoma, Fred Harris, Mr. Humphrey's most active campaign manager.

As we talked he made it clear that Mr. Humphrey and his advisers are taking for granted the definitive "Shermanesque" words of Ted Kennedy, Mr. Harris' only junior in the U.S. Senate.

Who, then, on the record, thinks as Mr. Humphrey thinks? Or, who does Mr. Humphrey think thinks like himself? If the vice president shifts a little to the left, it could be Gene McCarthy, George McGovern or even Ted Kennedy.

Now that the vice presidency no longer is a post of escalated impotence, the second spot is a critical matter to Mr. Humphrey's most powerful sponsors, from whom will flow the money, the manpower, the caravans, the telephone squad work, the flares, scores of millions of pieces of literature, the broadcast financing, the actual "hardware" of a presidential campaign — namely, the labor movement.

ONE PHALANX of this embattled legion led by George Meany's AFL-CIO doesn't really care who Mr. Humphrey believes is created in his image so long as it's not Gene McCarthy.

Another bloc of "the troops," led by the newly united labor brethren, Frank Fitzsimmons and Walter Reuther, is for Gene McCarthy. For them he's political aspirin. He would cure their splitting headaches brought on by overdoses of Lyndon Johnson.

They're all now supporting Hubert Humphrey, who has been telephoning them from his Minnesota home, breakfasting with them in New York, consulting with them in Michigan, California and Washington.

But their private problem now is to influence his thinking. Walter Reuther, for example, wants Mr. Humphrey to go white as a dove and black as a ghetto.

The other day a reporter asked the usually insulated Walter Reuther whether he has been talking with the vice president.

"Yes, I'm pushing him hard on the Vietnam war," said the auto union leader. "He's got to come out against it or he can't win the election. I think he'll come out."

IF THAT'S HOW Humphrey starts thinking, it will be a natural for him to call his old friend, McCarthy, a latter-day Stevensonian, and say let's run together. Such a ticket would save Mr. Humphrey many a headache and demonstration. It also would give him the full support of Fitzsimmons' Brotherhood of Teamsters with which Sen. McCarthy has been very close indeed.

Thus if Reuther convinces Mr. Humphrey to flap sincerely like a dove, the auto union leader can effect the first united political action with the Teamsters. Furthermore, it would make everybody happy.

Reuther would unite his union which is split between Humphrey and McCarthy — and the Teamsters would have a friend high in the administration for the first time since Franklin D. Roosevelt.

On Saturday or Sunday night preceding the convention opening, the Reuther and Fitzsimmons forces, each with a contingent of convention delegates, will dine and caucus in a Chicago hotel.

But while they're "showing the flag" over roast beef, there will be another labor caucus, powerful indeed. This one is led by AFL-CIO President George Meany, who as about as much use for Gene McCarthy as he does for Leonid Brezhnev.

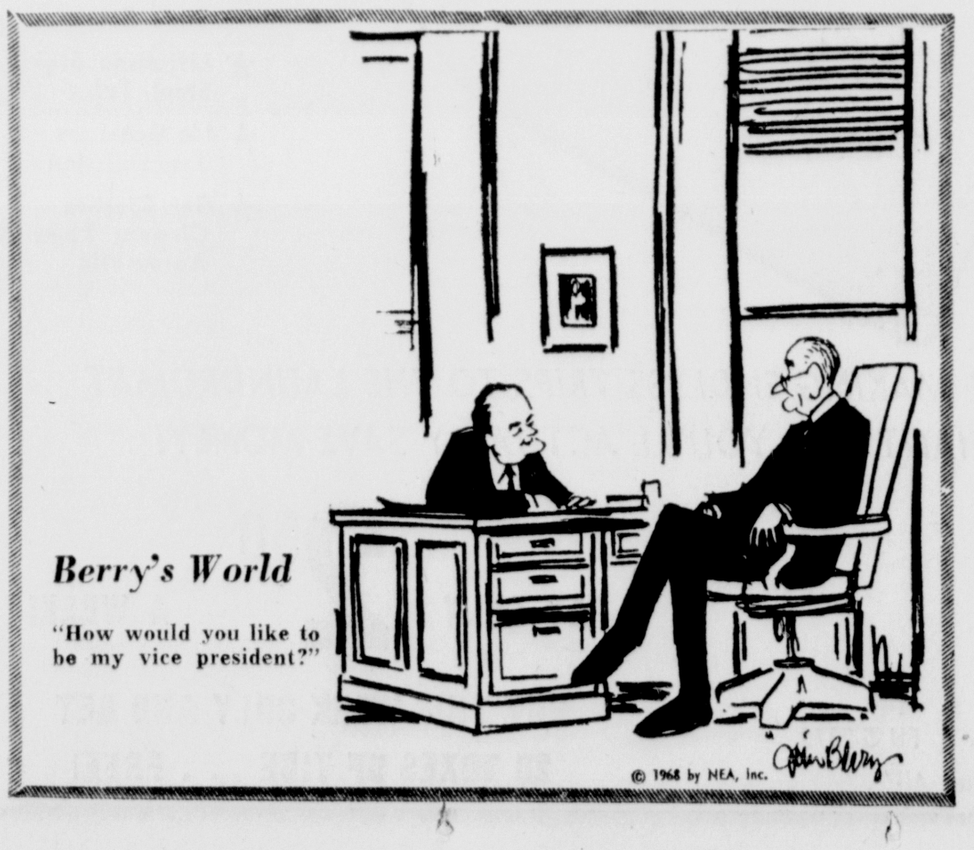

MR. MEANY is a very definite man. That's understatement. In his words, he wants peace but not appeasement. He does not want, nor do the 280 labor delegates and alternates, Mr. Humphrey to repudiates either Lyndon Johnson or the war. He wants to compromise with the Viet Cong.

He believes that "the imperialists are not in Washington; they are in Hanoi:

"Let the pickets and the protesters — yes, and the candidates — turn their attention there. Let them direct their condemnation and the pressure of opinion upon the one force primarily responsible for the continuation of the bloodshed — North Vietnam and its Viet Cong allies."

As for the ghettos, Mr. Meany demands socil justice. But he's not afraid of demanding tough law and order too.

Obviously Hubert Humphrey will have to think fast about what he will do on the convention floor. Either way, he stands to lose some influential friends.

RAYMOND MOLEY

Days Of FDR

As we shall see when the Democarts complete their deliberations in Chicago in two weeks, it is difficult for idealistic intellectuals to accept the thorny realities of politics. In the early days of the republic, the political leaders themselves were an intellectual elite, but more recently academic people and practical politicians are uneasy partners.

Never has this painful lack of adjustment been so well documented as in a new book by Rexford G. Tugwell, "The Brains Trust" which is an account of his mental and emotional experience while serving Franklin Roosevelt in the campaign of 1932.

I VENTURE to comment upon this because I was his friend and academic colleague at that time. I knew of his frustration when I served with him. And I am one of the most-frequently mentioned characters in his book.

Rex's story begins when, because I recognized his outstanding talents, his grasp of the farm problem and his utter sincerity, I enlisted him early in April, 1932, in what became known as Roosevelt's Brains Trust.

His ideas were fairly radical, but he served as an intellectual stimulant to Mr. Roosevelt who realized that he must come up with fresh ideas to combat the depression.

Adolf Berle Jr. of the Columbia Law School was the second recruit, and we three managed the speeches up to the nomination in Chicago. The political professionals, Ed Flynn, James Farley and Louis Howe, went after the delegates and, like our policy group, reported directly but separately to the candidate. The two groups were never mixed.

After the nomination, Mr. Roosevelt and I recognized that we needed an infusion of practical economics and political experience. And so Gen. Hugh Johnson was borrowed from Bernard Baruch, and two senators, James F. Byrnes and Key Pittman, were invited to join me.

While there were considerable ideological differences within the enlarged group, all went well until sometime in September. F.D.R.'s hospitality to new ideas and his political skill constituted the glue that held us together. Tugwell's views on "agriculture" had been accepted by all. They called for national planning in that field. But Rex believed that planning should be advocated for industry as well. Here there were sharp differences because Johnson, Byrnes, Pittman and I believed that, with an infusion of confidence, industry would right itself. Rex carried his cause to Mr. Roosevelt and his present book recites his long arguments with him on the subject.

Moreover, by mid-September it was clear that the election was won. The practical course under those circumstances was to excite as little controversy as possible. We had already been fiercely accused of radical and dangerous designs. And we realized that the concept of planned industry would elicit little understanding and great opposition.

WE ALSO BELIEVED that it was best to keep Mr. Roosevelt's options open until after the election.

And so it was F.D.R.'s decision, in which I fully concurred, to keep his speeches safely within the bonds of orthodoxy. The only exception was the famous Commonwealth speech in San Francisco which was largely written by Berle.

This course deeply depressed Rex. And in all the years since and in this eloquent book he has voiced his regret. He says that while these doubts shook him on election day, "Nevertheless, I voted for him."

He also says that the reforms after the inauguration were but "pitiful patches." There was in these "an amazing resemblance to Hoover" who would have adopted most of them had he been free from the restrictions of a Democratic House and the tradtionalists in his own party.

We can never know what might have happened if Franklin Roosevelt had adopted the Tugwell plans. We do know that with his masterly capacity to inspire confidence in what he did do the Great Depression was licked. That has always been my answer to those who would have followed a different course.

Pope Readies For Journey To Colombia

VATICAN CITY (AP) — With doctors certifying his good health, 70-year-old Pope Paul VI prepared today for his longest journey since he became pontiff in June 1963.

At dawn Thursday, the Pope will board a plane for a 12-hour flight to Bogota, the Colombian capital situated 8,860 feet high in the Eastern Andes Mountains.

The pontiff will attend the 39th international Eucharistic Congress being held in Bogota, ablaze with decorations for the historic event. He journeyed to the last congress in Bombay, India in December 1964.

Pope Paul expressed hope Sunday that the Congress would help alleviate the misery of Latin America's poor and oppressed.

The pontiff said he was hopeful that it would generate an intensive effort "that would invite the well-off, the developed peoples and economic and political authorities to resolve the two grave situations, of fixed authorities on one side, and intense misery on the other."

Speaking at his summer residence, Castel Gandolfo, south of Rome, the pontiff expressed his concern for poverty one week after a group of young Roman Catholic priests and laymen barricaded themselves in the main cathedral of Santiago, Chile, to protest what they called the Church's alliance with the rich against the poor.

The demonstrators said that elaborate plans for the papal visit to Bogota exemplified wasteful spending of funds that would better have gone to the poor.

The Pope said he looked forward to meeting the Colombian poor. He is expected to talk with the country's peasants Friday morning, the day after he arrives in Bogota for the sixth trip outside Italy during his reign.

It has been one year since the pontiff fell ill because of a prostate condition. He underwent surgery last Nov. 8 for removal of an inflamed prostate and did not resume his normal activities until Dec. 8. As recently as Easter, he still looked tired, but in the past few weeks he has seemed fit and vigorous.

Social Security Coverage Set For W. Va. 'Fee' Group

State and local government employes in West Virginia in positions compensated soley by fees such as justices of the peace and constables will now have social security coverage from their fee-basis work for the first time, according to Robert Harris, district manager for social security here, and State Auditor Denzil Gainer.

Gainer administers the agreement between the state of West Virginia and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare under which social security coverage is provided for state and local government employes.

The 1951 agreement excluded coverage of services in positions compensated on a fee basis. This continues to be true, but under the 1967 Social Security Act amendments, the fees received after 1967 which are not covered by the existing state agreement are covered under the self-employment provisions of the law.

There is one exception. Employes in these positions in 1968 can elect not to have their fees covered under the social security self - employment provisions by submitting a statement requesting not to be covered. Such requests go to the Internal Revenue Service on or before the due date of their federal income tax return for 1968. For most this will be April 15, 1969. Such a written request to exclude fees from coverage cannot later be revoked or withdrawn, Harris explained.

Gainer said the state has not provided social security coverage for fee - basis employes, largely because fees are generally paid directly to the employe by the public, and the employing governmental unit would have difficulties in withholding the social security tax and in making accurate reports on the amount of fees received.

The principal positions affected in West Virginia, he said, are justices of the peace and constables.

Harris said information is available from social security offices and the Internal Revenue Service at Parkersburg relative to reporting the earnings from fees as self-employment income for social security purposes. Forms to request not to have fees covered as self-employment income should be requested from the Internal Revenue Service at Parkersburg, he said.

Social Security Coverage Set For W. Va. 'Fee' Group

State and local government employes in West Virginia in positions compensated soley by fees such as justices of the peace and constables will now have social security coverage from their fee-basis work for the first time, according to Robert Harris, district manager for social security here, and State Auditor Denzil Gainer.

Gainer administers the agreement between the state of West Virginia and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare under which social security coverage is provided for state and local government employes.

The 1951 agreement excluded coverage of services in positions compensated on a fee basis. This continues to be true, but under the 1967 Social Security Act amendments, the fees received after 1967 which are not covered by the existing state agreement are covered under the self-employment provisions of the law.

There is one exception. Employes in these positions in 1968 can elect not to have their fees covered under the social security self - employment provisions by submitting a statement requesting not to be covered. Such requests go to the Internal Revenue Service on or before the due date of their federal income tax return for 1968. For most this will be April 15, 1969. Such a written request to exclude fees from coverage cannot later be revoked or withdrawn, Harris explained.

Gainer said the state has not provided social security coverage for fee - basis employes, largely because fees are generally paid directly to the employe by the public, and the employing governmental unit would have difficulties in withholding the social security tax and in making accurate reports on the amount of fees received.

The principal positions affected in West Virginia, he said, are justices of the peace and constables.

Harris said information is available from social security offices and the Internal Revenue Service at Parkersburg relative to reporting the earnings from fees as self-employment income for social security purposes. Forms to request not to have fees covered as self-employment income should be requested from the Internal Revenue Service at Parkersburg, he said.

City Plans Offer To Board On Old School Buildings

The city government will make a written offer tonight to the Board of Education to buy or lease three old school buildings which have been abandoned and which have been proposed for use as neighborhood community and recreation centers, Mayor George E. Willshaw said today.

The mayor said Asst. Solicitor Jackman S. Vodrey will draft the offer to the board for Willshaw's signature. He said the proposal for the city to make the offer was ratified by councilmen in an informal meeting Saturday.

The city will seek to acquire the Pleasant Heights, Garfield and Lincoln buildings. Neighborhood civic associations already have been formed in the three areas with tentative plans to help assume the responsibility for operation of the programs for all age groups. The city apparently would assume the responsibility for maintenance and possibly some other expenses in connection with the operations.

Buildings to be offered for sale tonight also include Central, Glenmoor, McKinley, Horace Mann and Neville.

The board also will hear a report by Robert Beatty concerning the completion of the new building complex.

City Plans Offer To Board On Old School Buildings

The city government will make a written offer tonight to the Board of Education to buy or lease three old school buildings which have been abandoned and which have been proposed for use as neighborhood community and recreation centers, Mayor George E. Willshaw said today.

The mayor said Asst. Solicitor Jackman S. Vodrey will draft the offer to the board for Willshaw's signature. He said the proposal for the city to make the offer was ratified by councilmen in an informal meeting Saturday.

The city will seek to acquire the Pleasant Heights, Garfield and Lincoln buildings. Neighborhood civic associations already have been formed in the three areas with tentative plans to help assume the responsibility for operation of the programs for all age groups. The city apparently would assume the responsibility for maintenance and possibly some other expenses in connection with the operations.

Buildings to be offered for sale tonight also include Central, Glenmoor, McKinley, Horace Mann and Neville.

The board also will hear a report by Robert Beatty concerning the completion of the new building complex.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Get Check Up Before Hunting Trip

The hunting season rolls around as regularly as Labor Day and Thanksgiving. The prospective hunter should check not only his equipment but also his own physical condition. Each year more hunting deaths are caused by heart attacks than by accidental gunshot wounds. The victims are almost always men who haven't had a physical checkup since they went before their draft board.

Dr. Brandstadt

WHEN YOU report to your doctor for a prehunting examination, you should be able to tell him how cold it will get at night and how hot it will be at midday where you are going, how far you are likely to hike through rough country and how much of this will be uphill, and whether you will be hunting mountain goats or other game at a high altitude.

HERE ARE SOME other valuable tips: You should embark on a physical conditioning program well in advance of your trip. Wear clothing that is lightweight but warm. Brush up on first-aid principles. Eat moderately and, if you must drink, wait until you are back in camp for the evening. Don't hunt alone — this is especially important if your trophy is a deer or other game too heavy for one man to handle. Take as good care of your heart as you do of your gun and you should survive many a hunting season.

Nixon Slated At Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio AP) — Richard M. Nixon comes to Ohio tonight for an early campaign strategy meeting in the state he won by 273,000 votes when he sought the presidency the first time eight years ago.

The Republican presidential candidate is scheduled to arrive at Port Columbus Airport at 9 p.m. He will make a short speech before leaving the airport, then lead a motorcade to the Sheraton-Columbus hotel to meet about 600 Republican leaders from across Ohio.

Secret Service men responsible for guarding Nixon's safety spent the weekend studying possible routes downtown from the airport to establish which was safest.

On Tuesday morning Nixon will meet privately with Gov. James A. Rhodes, State GOP Chairman John S. Andrews and other party leaders.

Although he did not support him at the Miami convention, Rhodes has now pledged full support for Nixon's campaign.

"Of course I will be doing all I can for him in his Ohio campaign," said Rhodes. "And Chairman John Andrews and the Republican organization will be working overtime for all Republicans this fall."

After an address to Detroit Veterans of Foreign Wars, Nixon will fly to Columbus.

Nixon Offers Endorsement For Republican Candidates

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, plunging into the first national tour of his presidential campaign, has offered his endorsement to all Republican candidates.

But the GOP presidential candidate adds at the same time that he will respect the wishes of Republican office-seekers who may want to stand apart, separating their campaigns from his.

Nixon outlined his approach to the old problem of national candidates trying to get along with local ones in a a briefing with newsmen in San Diego Sunday. After talking at length about campaign problems Nixon left on a three-day tour of Illinois, Ohio, Michigan and New York.

The first stop was Springfield, Ill., capital of a state he lost narrowly when he ran for president eight years ago.

"We're going to campaign Illinois like it's never been campaigned before," he told about 1,000 people who were waiting for him at the Springfield airport Sunday night.

"We're going to carry Illinois and we're going to carry the nation," he said.

The object of the trip is twofold: to meet with some of the party's big-state governors and to test the reaction of GOP workers to his efforts in the past week to unify Republicans behind his candidacy.

The key governors he plans to visit are George Romney of Michigan, Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, James A. Rhodes of Ohio and Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who was Nixon's top challenger for the nomination.

Nixon's decision to endorse all Republicans seeking office but to respect the fact some may want to go it alone recalls the problems Barry Goldwater, the party's 1964 presidential nominee, faced.

Some candidates in urban states avoided Goldwater because they believed he would hurt them in their own races.

In winding up his stay at the San Diego vacation campaign headquarters, Nixon praised the record of his running mate, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, in handling problems of big cities and said: "If anything happened to the president I would feel extremely confident that he could take over . . ."

Asked about Agnew's knowledge of foreign policy matters, Nixon said: "No man who is selected for the position of vice president of the United States is going to be an expert in every area.

"Gov. Agnew is not one who has had great experience in foreign affairs. However, what he has is something vital. He has a balance of judgment. He has the fine intellect to learn very fast."

Youth Held As Sniper In Rail Slaying

NEW YORK (AP) — A sniper fired into a moving Long Island Rail Road train early Sunday, killing one passenger and wounding another with a single shot.

Within a half-hour after the predawn shooting police picked up 16-year-old John Whitmore, of Long Island City, Queens. The youth was quoted as saying he had fired at three LIRR trains "just for the whim of it." He was charged with homicide.

Police said the fatal shot, from a .30-.02-caliber sawed-off rifle, was fired from a sandy embankment near a railroad trestle. The bullet hit Vincent Maher in the neck and Gabriel Jansen in the elbow.

After the shooting the train sped on to Pennsylvania Station in Manhattan. Maher, 31, an elevator operator and father of three children was dead when the train pulled in.

Jansen, 48, who had worked overtime at a dredging job at Jones Beach the night before, was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital.

He said he was dozing when the shot was fired. "I woke up to a big bang," he said. "I thought it was someone playing a joke." Jansen lives in Point Pleasant, N.J.

Whitmore, a vocational school student, wore a light blue shirt with a civil defense patch on one shoulder and dark blue trousers when arrested. Friends said he was interested in firemen and liked to dress up like a fireman.

Whitmore was picked up near the scene of the shooting.

Maher's body was identified by his sister, Mrs. Rosemary Holland of the Bronx. She said Maher was separated from his wife and was living alone in the Bronx.

Whitmore also was charged with possession of a dangerous weapon and felonious assault.

Americans Fear Big Government, Gallup Reports

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Americans view big government as a greater threat to the nation than big business or big labor, according to the Gallup Poll released Sunday.

By contrast a poll taken near the end of President Dwight D. Eisenhower's term in 1950 reported that big labor was seen as the greatest threat.

Democrats now are nearly as critical of growing federal power as are Republicans, Gallup said.

In the survey of 1,526 people in more than 300 localities, 46 per cent said big government will be the greatest threat to the nation, 26 per cent said labor and 12 per cent said business. Sixteen per cent expressed no opinion.

Police Curb Shooting In Florida City

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Shotgun and pistol fire rang out through St. Petersburg's Southside Sunday night as the Gulf Coast city went through a third successive night of racial violence.

Police said there were no reports of injury from gunfire during the night, but at least one blast from shotguns fired from ambush struck the Florida Highway Patrol's specially designed riot-control armored truck.

Backed up by the armored vehicle, law enforcement officers employed tear gas to break up three large gatherings of Negroes in the troubled area. On each occasion, officers on foot swept through the area to drive out stragglers.

Lt. M. G. Colman, who has led the city's riot-trained officers on the street, said 25 persons were arrested on charges ranging from disorderly conduct to carrying concealed weapons.

Colman said the patrol's armored vehicle, which can send out clouds of tear gas to either side, proved a major factor in dispersing the crowds.

The violence began about 1 a.m. Saturday after a street fight outside a dance hall patronized by Negroes. Looting, rock-throwing and some window-smashing was widespread the first night, but police have attempted to break up any crowd formation since then.

The American Descendants Assn. in Brazil, made up of Brazilian families that trace their origin back to the first Confederate immigrants, has built a small museum that displays relics of the Old South.

Delegate Selects McCarthy After Holding Primary

PEMBROKE, Maine (AP) — Albion Goodwin, 32, says he will cast his Democratic National Convention delegate vote for Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy after running his own private primary.

Goodwin said Sunday that the primary election he held resulted in 207 votes for McCarthy, 57 for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, three for the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and one for George C. Wallace.

Five per cent of the registered Democrats in Washington County, which Goodwin represents, responded either by mail or at three polling stations, Goodwin said.

Goodwin said when he was picked as a delegate that he would vote at the convention for the winner of his poll.

Ambridge Council Set To OK Police Raises

AMBRIDGE, Pa. (AP) — Borough council is expected to officially approve a $900 pay hike for police tonight after agreeing to end a seige of sickness Sunday and return to work.

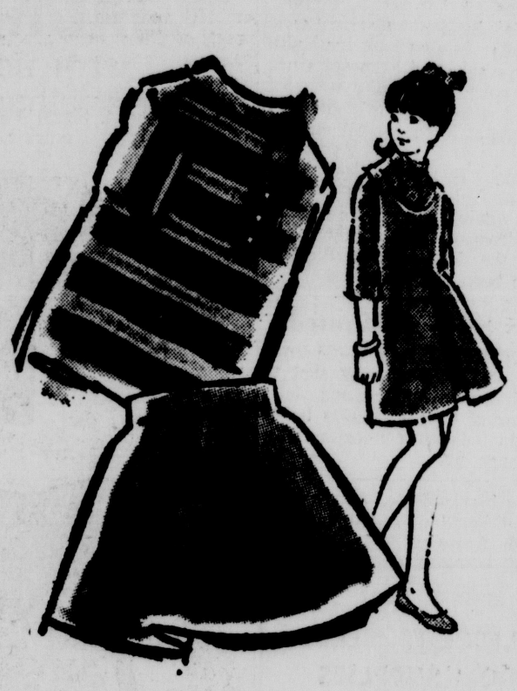

Fifteen members of the 17-man force reported off sick Saturday night and early Sunday, prompting Council to agree to the raise which had been promised earlier in the year.

Only Police Chief Charles Bruich and a rookie patrolman were on duty.

Nixon Offers Endorsement For Republican Candidates

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, plunging into the first national tour of his presidential campaign, has offered his endorsement to all Republican candidates.

But the GOP presidential candidate adds at the same time that he will respect the wishes of Republican office-seekers who may want to stand apart, separating their campaigns from his.

Nixon outlined his approach to the old problem of national candidates trying to get along with local ones in a a briefing with newsmen in San Diego Sunday. After talking at length about campaign problems Nixon left on a three-day tour of Illinois, Ohio, Michigan and New York.

The first stop was Springfield, Ill., capital of a state he lost narrowly when he ran for president eight years ago.

"We're going to campaign Illinois like it's never been campaigned before," he told about 1,000 people who were waiting for him at the Springfield airport Sunday night.

"We're going to carry Illinois and we're going to carry the nation," he said.

The object of the trip is twofold: to meet with some of the party's big-state governors and to test the reaction of GOP workers to his efforts in the past week to unify Republicans behind his candidacy.

The key governors he plans to visit are George Romney of Michigan, Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, James A. Rhodes of Ohio and Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who was Nixon's top challenger for the nomination.

Nixon's decision to endorse all Republicans seeking office but to respect the fact some may want to go it alone recalls the problems Barry Goldwater, the party's 1964 presidential nominee, faced.

Some candidates in urban states avoided Goldwater because they believed he would hurt them in their own races.

In winding up his stay at the San Diego vacation campaign headquarters, Nixon praised the record of his running mate, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, in handling problems of big cities and said: "If anything happened to the president I would feel extremely confident that he could take over . . ."

Asked about Agnew's knowledge of foreign policy matters, Nixon said: "No man who is selected for the position of vice president of the United States is going to be an expert in every area.

"Gov. Agnew is not one who has had great experience in foreign affairs. However, what he has is something vital. He has a balance of judgment. He has the fine intellect to learn very fast."

Youth Held As Sniper In Rail Slaying

NEW YORK (AP) — A sniper fired into a moving Long Island Rail Road train early Sunday, killing one passenger and wounding another with a single shot.

Within a half-hour after the predawn shooting police picked up 16-year-old John Whitmore, of Long Island City, Queens. The youth was quoted as saying he had fired at three LIRR trains "just for the whim of it." He was charged with homicide.

Police said the fatal shot, from a .30-.02-caliber sawed-off rifle, was fired from a sandy embankment near a railroad trestle. The bullet hit Vincent Maher in the neck and Gabriel Jansen in the elbow.

After the shooting the train sped on to Pennsylvania Station in Manhattan. Maher, 31, an elevator operator and father of three children was dead when the train pulled in.

Jansen, 48, who had worked overtime at a dredging job at Jones Beach the night before, was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital.

He said he was dozing when the shot was fired. "I woke up to a big bang," he said. "I thought it was someone playing a joke." Jansen lives in Point Pleasant, N.J.

Whitmore, a vocational school student, wore a light blue shirt with a civil defense patch on one shoulder and dark blue trousers when arrested. Friends said he was interested in firemen and liked to dress up like a fireman.

Whitmore was picked up near the scene of the shooting.

Maher's body was identified by his sister, Mrs. Rosemary Holland of the Bronx. She said Maher was separated from his wife and was living alone in the Bronx.

Whitmore also was charged with possession of a dangerous weapon and felonious assault.

Americans Fear Big Government, Gallup Reports

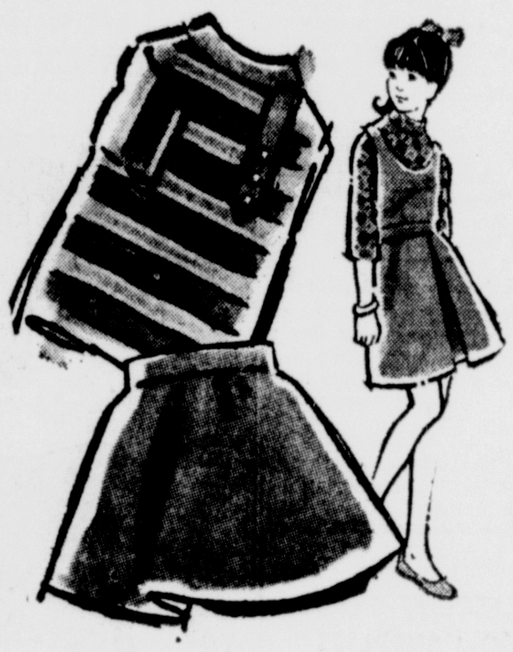

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Americans view big government as a greater threat to the nation than big business or big labor, according to the Gallup Poll released Sunday.

By contrast a poll taken near the end of President Dwight D. Eisenhower's term in 1950 reported that big labor was seen as the greatest threat.

Democrats now are nearly as critical of growing federal power as are Republicans, Gallup said.

In the survey of 1,526 people in more than 300 localities, 46 per cent said big government will be the greatest threat to the nation, 26 per cent said labor and 12 per cent said business. Sixteen per cent expressed no opinion.

California Custody Case Ended

BROOKDALE, Calif. (AP) — The Harold Painter household was filled with joy today because 10-year-old Mark Painter's grandmother in Iowa has said he can stay here with his father and new mother.

"There's no way to tell you how happy this makes us all," said Harold Painter, Mark's father, foreseeing the peaceful end to a long custody battle over the boy.

Painter, a writer-photographer who lives in this Santa Cruz Mountain village 50 miles south of San Francisco, said he had heard Sunday from the Rev. Clay Lumpkins of Gilbert, Iowa, pastor to Mark's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Bannister of Ames.

The Rev. Ms. Lumpkins visited the Painters here last week to ask the boy whether he wanted to stay on with his father or return to his grandparents in Iowa.

The custody struggle began after the dtath in 1962 of Mark's mother, the daughter of the Bannisters. Painter sent the baby to them, then remarried and sought to get the boy back. The case went to the Iowa Supreme Court, which ruled the boy would be better off in the "sable, dependable, conventional middle-class Middle West home" of the Bannisters than in Painter's "romantic, impractical, unstable and arty" environment which it described as "Bohemian and probably intellectually stimulating."

This summer Mark came west to spend his usual vacation with his father. He said he liked it here, wanted to stay and didn't want to go back to Iowa.

Painter meanwhile got a Santa Cruz court to issue a temporary order assigning him custody, with a hearing set for Aug. 28 to determine whether it should be permanent. He argued that the Bannisters, both now 63, have undergone "changes in the mental and physical condition ... which would endanger Mark's welfare if he were to return to live with them."

In Ames, the Rev. Mr. Lumpkins said Mrs. Bannister has accepted Mark's decision and will make no further efforts to get him back. "She has been concerned for the boy's welfare from the start, but she wants what he wants" he said.

New Witnesses Awaited In Barron Bribery Trial

CHARLESTON (AP) — The bribery-conspiracy trial of former West Virginia Gov. W. W. Barron and five other persons entered its second week today with more witnesses scheduled to testfiy for the government.

So far 19 persons have testified for the prosecution and more than 60 pieces of evidence have been put on exhibit in U.S. District Court here.

Barron and the other five defendants went on trial a week ago on a federal indictment charging use of interstate facilities to carry out an alleged bribery scheme involving state contracts.

The government charges two of the defendants — Elkins attorney Bonn Brown and Clarksburg Auto dealer Alfred W. Schroath — set up corporations in Ohio and Florida to receive payments from firms seeking West Virginia government contracts.

The indictment alleges Barron and the three other defendants — former State Road Commissioner Burl A. Sawyers, former Deputy Road Commissioner Vincent J. Johnkoski and former State Finance Commissioner Truman E. Gore — conspired with Brown and Schroath to direct business to companies making payments to the out-of-state corporations.

Highlighting the first week of the trial was testimony last Thursday and Friday by Charleston businessman Isadore Lashinsky. Lashinsky, president of Southern Culvert Corp., testified he signed an agreement with Brown in 1961 in which a firm allegedly represented by Brown was paid $50,000 commissions for state contracts given to Southern Culbert during 1961, 1962 and 1963.

Lashinsky said the payments were made in cash and delivered to Johnkoski at the West Virginia State Capitol.

Lashinsky also testified he paid Asst. State Purchasing Director Fred M. Merchant a commission of 2 per cent in 1961 and from 1965 to 1968 on gross sales of metal pipe to the state by Southern Culvert, and gave former State Purchasing Director Curtis Wilson "gratuities" during holiday periods.

Lashinsky also mentioned a $10,000 contribution to Gov. Hulett Smith, which he said he gave to Smith as a political contribution in 1964.

The defense, in its cross examination, attempted to show that Lashinsky used some of the money he said he gave to Johnkoski to buy jewelry for his wife, flying lessons for his son and to remodel his home.

It also noted that the witness was under indictment for allegedly evading $49,347 in federal income taxes, nearly the same amount of money he claimed to have paid Johnkosski.

The trial is being heard by a jury of seven women and five men plus six alternate jurors. The panel is being isolated in a Charleston hotel during the trial's duration.

Physicians Seek Skin For Burned Detroit Boy, 13

DETROIT (AP) — Gary Shapiro, 13, probably will die by midweek unless he receives massive skin grafts, says his doctor.

Gary received third-degree burns over 75 per cent of his body in a cooking-fire accident June 20.

Dr. James R. Lloyd, a pediatric surgeon affiliated with Children's Hospital of Michigan, said Sunday he is seeking donation of skin from a recently dead body.

"This is almost a desperation move now in order to keep the boy alive," Lloyd said." "Our backs are against the wall.

If no cadavers are located by Tuesday, Gary's only hope will be numerous smaller skin grafts from live persons, Lloyd said. More than 600 square inches of skin grafts since the accident have kept the Southfield, Mich., boy alive.

The most recent grafts came a week ago from his parents. They are now also in the hospital recovering from the massive donations of tissue.

Cause Of Fire Sought

CINCINNATI (AP) — Fire department officials were investigating today the cause of a fire that raged through the Easy-Way Products Co. Sunday doing about $25,000 damage to the two-story building.

Agnew Race Hit By Maryland's Negro Leaders

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — While Gov. Spiro T. Agnew stumped on the West Coast in his campaign for the vice presidency, Negro critics back home issued another attack on him.

Directors of the Maryland conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People sent telegrams Sunday "deploring the selection of our governor as the vice presidential candidate of the Republican party" and expressing "our deep concern" about the selection.

One wire went to Rep. Gerald B. Ford who had been chairman of the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach and another to John Bailey, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

The telegram to Bailey expressed belief that Agnew's selection by the Republicans "was an effort to appease the forces of bigotry in the nation."

It said, "If a similar effort is consummated at the National Democratic Convention, it will lead to increased civil disorders and internal strife."

At about the same time the NAACP directors were acting in Annapolis, the headquarters for GOP presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon in San Diego, Calif., was handing out a 74-page statement entitled, "The Agnew Record in Human Relations."

It listed as his accomplishments appointment of Negroes to high positions in Maryland, implementation of a fair employment practice code, the first "really meaningful" special job program, and tax reform legislaion to aid low-income citizens.

Papal Stand Causes Scuffle At Cathedral

LONDON (AP) — An argument over the Pope's birth control ban erupted in a scuffle on the steps of Westminster Cathedral Sunday between members of opposing Roman Catholic groups.

The incident started when crowds leaving the cathedral were confronted by posters urging reinstatement of a suburban priest suspended for challenging the papal birth control encyclical.

Nine British priests are known to have spoken out publicly against the Pope's encyclical. Two of them—Father Weir and the Rev. David Payne—have been disciplined.

McCarthy Earns Support In Ohio Democratic Poll

CLEVELAND (AP) — U.S. Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy was an easy winner in the controversial mock Ohio Democratic presidential primary which a party official said must be considered as a poll instead of a primary because of the small turnout.

With 1,000 ballots still to be tabulated Sunday, McCarthy had 14,622 votes, or 50.7 per cent of the 28,392 ballots cast at some 600 polling places in 40 counties. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was second with 6,656, or 23 per cent.

State Democratic Chairman Eugene O'Grady said in Columbus that the primary "is not to be pooh-poohed," but that "the small size of the vote means it will have to be viewed as a poll rather than a primary."

Also on the ballot were Sens. Edward M. Kennedy and George S. McGovern, with Kennedy receiving 3,966 votes and McGovern 966.

Former Alabama Gov. George Wallace, an independent candidate, received 2,238 write-in votes, or 7.7 per cent.

The primary Friday and Saturday received the backing of Sen. Stephen M. Young, former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and O'Grady, but was opposed by Frazier Reams Jr., chairman of Humphrey's Ohio campaign organization.

Reams said the primary was held to show support of only one candidate—McCarthy.

Wiring Seen Cause Of Blaze Killing Four

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Despite early suspicions of arson in a house fire here which claimed four lives early Sunday, a sheriff's detective said Sunday night he thinks defective electric wiring led to the blaze.

This is unconfirmed, Sgt. Ralph Sturts said, indicating that the investigation will continue.

Killed were Everett C. Slaughter, 46, his wife, Lena, 36, and their sons, Michael, 10, and Timothy, 2.

"This is almost a desperation move now in order to keep the boy alive," Lloyd said." "Our backs are against the wall.

If no cadavers are located by Tuesday, Gary's only hope will be numerous smaller skin grafts from live persons, Lloyd said. More than 600 square inches of skin grafts since the accident have kept the Southfield, Mich., boy alive.

The most recent grafts came a week ago from his parents. They are now also in the hospital recovering from the massive donations of tissue.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Fire department officials were investigating today the cause of a fire that raged through the Easy-Way Products Co. Sunday doing about $25,000 damage to the two-story building.

Agnew Race Hit By Maryland's Negro Leaders

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — While Gov. Spiro T. Agnew stumped on the West Coast in his campaign for the vice presidency, Negro critics back home issued another attack on him.

Directors of the Maryland conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People sent telegrams Sunday "deploring the selection of our governor as the vice presidential candidate of the Republican party" and expressing "our deep concern" about the selection.

One wire went to Rep. Gerald B. Ford who had been chairman of the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach and another to John Bailey, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

The telegram to Bailey expressed belief that Agnew's selection by the Republicans "was an effort to appease the forces of bigotry in the nation."

It said, "If a similar effort is consummated at the National Democratic Convention, it will lead to increased civil disorders and internal strife."

At about the same time the NAACP directors were acting in Annapolis, the headquarters for GOP presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon in San Diego, Calif., was handing out a 74-page statement entitled, "The Agnew Record in Human Relations."

It listed as his accomplishments appointment of Negroes to high positions in Maryland, implementation of a fair employment practice code, the first "really meaningful" special job program, and tax reform legislaion to aid low-income citizens.

Papal Stand Causes Scuffle At Cathedral

LONDON (AP) — An argument over the Pope's birth control ban erupted in a scuffle on the steps of Westminster Cathedral Sunday between members of opposing Roman Catholic groups.

The incident started when crowds leaving the cathedral were confronted by posters urging reinstatement of a suburban priest suspended for challenging the papal birth control encyclical.

Nine British priests are known to have spoken out publicly against the Pope's encyclical. Two of them—Father Weir and the Rev. David Payne—have been disciplined.

McCarthy Earns Support In Ohio Democratic Poll

CLEVELAND (AP) — U.S. Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy was an easy winner in the controversial mock Ohio Democratic presidential primary which a party official said must be considered as a poll instead of a primary because of the small turnout.

With 1,000 ballots still to be tabulated Sunday, McCarthy had 14,622 votes, or 50.7 per cent of the 28,392 ballots cast at some 600 polling places in 40 counties. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was second with 6,656, or 23 per cent.

State Democratic Chairman Eugene O'Grady said in Columbus that the primary "is not to be pooh-poohed," but that "the small size of the vote means it will have to be viewed as a poll rather than a primary."

Also on the ballot were Sens. Edward M. Kennedy and George S. McGovern, with Kennedy receiving 3,966 votes and McGovern 966.

Former Alabama Gov. George Wallace, an independent candidate, received 2,238 write-in votes, or 7.7 per cent.

The primary Friday and Saturday received the backing of Sen. Stephen M. Young, former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and O'Grady, but was opposed by Frazier Reams Jr., chairman of Humphrey's Ohio campaign organization.

Reams said the primary was held to show support of only one candidate—McCarthy.

Wiring Seen Cause Of Blaze Killing Four

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Despite early suspicions of arson in a house fire here which claimed four lives early Sunday, a sheriff's detective said Sunday night he thinks defective electric wiring led to the blaze.

This is unconfirmed, Sgt. Ralph Sturts said, indicating that the investigation will continue.

Killed were Everett C. Slaughter, 46, his wife, Lena, 36, and their sons, Michael, 10, and Timothy, 2.

Sash, Stripping Can Help Reduce That Heating Bill

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Storm sash and weather stripping are of great importance when it comes to reducing the fuel bill, so the home owner who is preparing his house against winter's assault should see that either or both of these essential items are included in his arrangements.

Storm sash stops the cold effects of the chilled window glass on the house temperature and weather stripping prevents the escaping of heated air and the introduction of cold air through loose sash. Another good thing about weather stripping is that it stops the rattling of windows during heavy wind, a sound that seems to increase the cold feeling during a bad winter night.

Because of the improvement in the manufacture of window sash, many of the better quality sashes come with the weather stripping already incorporated in the windows, but the average house built several years ago will not have this improvement.

There are several different varieties of weather strip. One is the metal type, which takes a good man to install; another is the wood strip with a rubber edge, which anyone can tack into place, and the third and least costly is the felt strip which comes in rolls and can be readily attached by the ameur.

Any one of hese types is well worth having on your windows and doors; and if not on all of them, at least on the windows and doors which face the direction from which the winter winds and storms usually come.

If the wood strip type is being used or the felt tape put on, the owner of the house should remember to fit it in place while the window or door is in a closed position.

Crash Kills Ohioan

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—Dominic Ionta, 21, Cleveland, Ohio, died of a broken neck early Sunday when his car left Interstate 80 six miles east of here and rolled twice, the state patrol said.

Radium is a whitish substance that resembles common salt or baking powder.

Yards Can Use Planning

Big yard, little yard, long-and-skinny yard — whatever its size and shape, it needs space planning, the same kind that determines what happens to a house interior.

In this age, it's silly to designate all the land around the house as merely "yard, front, back and side." Instead, the space should be treated as a succession of rooms, some of which tie closely in function with rooms indoors. One or more may be fully walled for privacy, others defined in more subtle ways. Result: greatly upgraded appearance and full use of your own land.

WHAT HAPPENS to the garden in space planning? It becomes an experience rather than merely a scene. It is everywhere, not just at foundations and fence lines. To both novice and experienced green - thumber, it poses an absorbing challenge in layout, demanding knowledge and enthusiasm, plus a sense of structure, texture, and color.

But now, how does one evolve a good plan for outdoor space? The services of a porfessional landscape architect are always an excellent investment. First, however, the family must decide what it wants, how it intends to live.

There are basics, of course. For an active family with growing children, a generous-sized living room is needed. Logically, it should lie near the indoor living room, and it will need screening for privacy. If on the sunny side of the house, a sunshade roof is in order, too.

A breakfast room is another basic, leading off from the kitchen so that it's completely handy for meals.

This space is most charming when treated as a cozy island surrounded by a swath of garden. Use a deck here, fir 2-by-4s elevated to the level of interior floors. Along outside edges, build a low railing to further the illusion of an island. Hang benches on the inside of the railing and furnish the room with picnic table and benches or a more dress-up dining set.

ADD TUBS of geraiums for the accessories, and be sure to leave "doors" in the railings on all sides so the breakfast nook remains fully accessible to the garden and other outdoor rooms.

Small children will need a playroom — a space floored with softest lawn or with wood chips to avoid grass stains.

Teen - agers will appreciate a room away from the house, a gazebo-like affair where they can trade gossip and secrets.

And parents will find it wonderful to have their own secluded garden court directly adjoining the bedroom suite or the study.

Although a master plan must be made at the outset, execution of the space - planned garden can come in stages, as time, energy and funds permit. But, remember, structures are the first order of business if damage to planting areas is to be avoided during construction.

Steel Expects 5-Year Low

CLEVELAND (AP) — Steel shipments this month probably will be the lowest in five years with the movement not expected to exceed 5.5 million net tons, Steel Magazine said today.

"The last time shipments were this low was at the end of 1963 when users were reducing inventories they had built against the threat of a steelworkers' strike," the weekly journal of metalworking said.

"Not only do the U.S. mills have light bookings of orders for August delivery, but they are receiving cancellations and requests for deferment of shipments. Now that a Steelworkers' strike has been avoided, users have little or no need for more steel. They are well stocked with the strike-hedge inventories they built by Aug. 1."

The magazine said the order cancellations and requests for deferred shipments are coming from steel users who had placed orders so they could be early in line for shipments in event of a strike.

Total shipments expected this month will be just slightly more than half of July's 10.4 million or 10.5 million tons—the most that has been shipped in any month.

Steel said that shipments in August will not be as high as raw steel production might indicate.

The magazine said steel output is now 31 per cent below the weekly average during the first six months of the year, with last week's production estimated at 1,950,000 net tons. It was the eighth consecutive week of decline.

Steel's price composite on the No. 1 grade of steelmaking scrap dropped 34 cents to $23.33 a gross ton last week.

the removal of tar from rugs?

A. — Scrape off as much as possible, then treat with carbon tetrachloride. A complete section of my household-hints book deals with spots and stains of all kinds.

Q. — How can I clean glass flower vases that are encrusted with a brown scum?

A. — Soak in a strong solution of hot vinegar, then wash in clear water. The vase will not only sparkle, but also smell sweet and fresh.

Q. — How can I prevent my cake filling from soaking into the cake I am baking?

A. — By sprinkling the top of each layer with powdered sugar before frosting or filling.

Q. — Is there anything that can be done about a vacuum-bottle cork which because of much use, has become too small for the opening in the bottle?

A. — If you'll boil these corks in a covered vessel, they will not only expand back to usable size, but will also be nicely sterilized.

Q.—Can you suggest any remedy when the warp of a carpet or rug shows in a few worn spots?

A.—You can often camouflage these spots effectively by rubbing over them with a crayon of matching color. Or, you can get dye and apply it to the spot with a small sponge.

Mail Reveals Odd Facts

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Litterbugs aren't merely nuisances. They're expensive. The cost of picking up the debris they leave on highways, beaches, park sites and other public property adds half a billion dollars annually to the nation's tax bill.

On the other hand, a nagging wife can sometimes save you money. By bawling you out she may herself avoid getting an expensive ailment—arthritis. Many psychiatrists believe that women who bottle up their emotions and brood about their woes are particularly susceptible to arthritis.

The more cars a family has, the more each vehicle is used. Familes with two or more cars average 10,000 miles a car. Those with one car average 9,900.

A good wife is a good financial bargain. One study found that wives who don't hold outside jobs put in nearly 100 hours a week on their homemaking duties. If you could find any other woman who would work that hard or long for a minimum of $1.60 an hour—and you probably couldn't—she would cost you $160 a week.

The increasing use of computers is adding new words to our vocabulary. One is "nanosecond," the time it takes electricity traveling at 186,000 miles per second to go one foot. Another is "picasecond," a millionth of a millionth of a second. That's how long it takes electricity to journey the thickness of your fingernail.

Quotable notables: "Years wrinkle the skin, but to give up enthusiasm wrinkles the soul." —Samuel Ullman.

Prosperity note: About 30 per cent of U.S. families now have yearly incomes of $10,000 a year or more.

Safety tip: Don't try to change a tire in one of the busy lanes of a modern expressway. If you do, Illinois State Police warn, your life expectancy is just 20 minutes.

It was Josh Billings who observed. "Some folks are so contrary that if they fell in a river, they'd insist on floating upstream."

Alternates for Porch

SEVERAL OPTIONS are suggested for the porch behind the garage in Plan HA5585. It can be kept as an open porch, or with a lavatory added be used as a mud room or laundry, or with a U of shelf space, as a pantry. A compact, three-bedroom wing and a trim working kitchen are included in the plan, leaving a fine living room and dining room to complete the living facilities. The plan is big on everything but budget. Living area is 1,030 square feet. Architect is Herbert Struppmann, Room 704, 48 W. 48th St., New York, N. Y. 10036.

Cheap Brush Won't Do Proper Job

Planning a small paint job? Need a brush? Figure you'll just buy a cheap one and throw it away? Don't!

A few pennies worth of turpentine or mineral spirits is cheaper than buying a new paint brush — even the cheapest available — every time you paint, even if it's only once a year.

But aside from the false economy, there is the matter of the job itself. A cheap brush will do a poor job and take longer to do.

YOU DON'T need the most expensive, but spend enough. Imported Chinese bristles are for the painters who earn their living at it. For home use, a good domestic natural bristle in a well-constructed brush or a quality nylon brush will do.

Generally speaking, buy natural bristle brushes for oil-base paints, nylon for latex paints. If you are watching your pennies, buy a good nylon for both. Natural bristles get soggy in latex. Nylon won't give as smooth a job with oil-based paints but the difference isn't that great —especially outdoors.

If you are going beyond the use of paint you will have to use both. Nylon will not do for lacquer, epoxy or paint removers or other solvents. And for varnishing, you will prefer the smooth job that natural bristle does.

For outside house painting get a four - inch brush. For indoors, two- or three-inch brushes are good for corners and woodwork. Since you will probably use latex paint for walls indoors, use a roller.

Among the special brushes which are useful is the sash brush which slants to one side and tapers to a chisellike edge. This is handy for working in around windows and other tight areas.

HOW DO you pick a good brush from the vast assortment available? Thickness and length are the first things to look for. Length is especially important in natural bristle brushes. The longer they are the better they are. Bend the bristles. If you find bunches of short bristles sticking out, pick another brush.

Making the brush look thicker than it is is a plug at the base of the bristles. This should not be more than a third of the thickness of the brush.

Stroke the brush a few times against your hand. Every brush will shed a few bristles. Avoid those with heavy shedding, however.

In a natural bristle brush, the ends of the bristles are flagged, that is, split. This indicates a good brush.

Care will make your investment worthwhile. Clean your brush after using it. You can get away without cleaning between coats of paint by wrapping the brush tightly in several layers of aluminum foil. But don't leave it this way for more than a day.

Brushes used in oil paints can be cleaned in turpentine or mineral spirits. Those used in latex paints can be rinsed in water.

After cleaning off the excess paint (either kind) with the proper thinner, wash the brush in soap and water before storing. Hanging is the best way to store a brush. If you wish to lay it flat, wrap the bristles.

Never leave a brush standing in a can of thinner. It will bend the bristles.

Sail Boat Sinks, Survivors Saved

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Like many a sailing ship before her, a 38-foot cruiser with 10 people aboard rammed into Duxbury Reef 15 miles north of here Sunday in a fog.

The Sportsfisherman sank within minutes. Her 10 occupants scrambled on to rocks. But a Coast Guard cutter and helicopter couldn't find them in the fog.

The tide ebbed, and the 10 stranded persons picked their way to shore—only to find themselves on a narrow, cliff-rimmed beach.

Finally the Bolinas Bay Fire Department lowered ropes over the cliff, and hauled the 10 to safety.

Hasbrouch House, George Washington's headquarters at Newburgh, N. Y., (1782-83), was acquired in 1850, becoming the first property in New York's present system of historic sites.

Although driest of all continents, Australia taps giant artesian basins far below the surface to provide water for cattle.

'Habits' Credited By Elderly Trio For Hike Ability

LONE PINE, Calif. (AP) — What enables three septuagenarians to tramp to the summit of Mt. Whitney, the nation's second-highest mountain, passing scores of puffing hikers as they go?

"We try to follow the Bible's examples of good living habits," explained Hulda Crooks, 72, Loma Linda, Calif., after finishing her seventh climb up the 14,495-foot mountain in seven years.

She made the 11½-mile trek in 7½ hours Sunday with her brothers, Dr. Edward Hoehn, 75, Angwin, Calif., and Chris Haines, 77, Issaquah, Wash. All are vegetarians, nondrinkers, nonsmokers and Seventh Day Adventists.

A Little Care Will Keep Shine On Your Hardware

Metal hardware — hinges, knobs, catches — and ornamental accessories of metal are common around most homes.

They are attractive and durable. But in time they do lose their luster. Almost any metal will tarnish to some extent. Some can be cleaned very easily. Others will pit and corrode if not cared for promptly and a few will lose their exterior coating with improper cleaning.

Any hardware store carries an assortment of good metal polishes. Most of them consist of a solvent which dissolves the oxides on the metal surface and with this solvent there is a mild abrasive for polishing.

THOUGH these are generally mild polishes, they are adequate if used before metal surfaces become too badly tarnished. But even the mildest polish should be used sparingly and with care on plated metals. Frequent cleaning and polishing eventually will wear through the plating.

The problem of wear can be solved by giving plated objects a protective coating. With a coating of clear lacquer over the plating, the surface will last indefinitely and can be cleaned easily.

Surfaces must be absolutely clean before coating with lacquer. Using a mild polish — one that is sure not to scratch —clean off all dirt and tarnish. Rinse with denatured alcohol to remove all traces of the polish. Wipe with a cloth that will not leave lint.

Brush or spray on two coats of clear lacquer. The job can be made easier by removing the pieces — if possible — before lacquering.

ALTHOUGH solid copper, bronze or brass do not present the same problem, they, too, can benefit from a coat of lacquer. They tarnish easily. After cleaning with a metal polish, wash thoroughly with soap and water.

Do not use lacquer on any hardware or object that comes in contact with a flame or which must withstand heat.

Sometimes copper, bronze or brass objects become badly pitted when not cleaned and polished for some time. Use a mild kitchen cleanser to clean. Rinse with hot water. Some stains may remain behind. Use a solution of vinegar and salt for cleaning these. Rinse with hot water, dry and polish.

Aluminum does not rust, but it will pit and become dull, especially when exposed to the weather. Cleaning pads of fine steel wool and mild soap will make aluminum bright again without harming it.

Strong cleaning agents, those with lye or similar strong ingredients, can discolor aluminum. Outdoors, give aluminum a light coat of wax once it is clean and shiny.

Stainless steel will stain slightly if substances are allowed to dry on its surface. Cleaning with soap and water is generally sufficient. Some acid containing foods may cause discoloration or pitting. In such a case, use a metal polish to restore the surface to its original condition.

Chromium also can be cleaned with soap and water or with a mild polish. Do not use harsh abrasives or you may damage the surface. Protect with wax where possible.

Newell Driver Cited After His Car Wrecks

An 18-year-old Newell driver was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control following a one - car accident today at 1 a.m.

The Hancock County sheriff's office said Steve J. Richards ran his car through a barbed wire fence and over an embankment at the intersections of the Waterford Park and Middle Run Rds. Damage to the car was estimated at $400. Richards escaped injury.

New York ranks 30th among the states in total land area and 26th in forest land area.

Seaquarium Gets White Porpoise

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Another rare white porpoise captured off the coast of South Carolina arrived Sunday at the Miami Seaquarium.

The porpoise, known as the white porpoise of St. Helena, S.C. Sound, was netted by William Baldwin, a Colleton County, S.C., shrimper, and Capt. Emil Hanson of the Seaquarium, on the ocean side of Otto Island.

Two rival hunting parties had pursued the porpoise, thought to be a rare albino, in the sound where the seaquarium's first porpoise, Carolina Snowball, was captured on Aug. 4, 1962. Carolina Snowball died in 1965.

Hanson described the new porpoise as "a beautiful specimen, two years old." It was flown to Miami aboard a chartered plane and Hanson said it will be used for genetic studies.

Garfield Man Drowns In River At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Police recovered the body of a man from the Allegheny River who was last seen alive Friday.

The victim was identified as Clarence D. McEwen, 37, of Garfield.

A man fishing under the Seventh Street Bridge sighted the body Sunday.

An electric eel can generate more than 600 volts.

ANN LANDERS

No Style In Dump Truck

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: First let's get one thing straight. I'm not a teen-ager. I'm 41 years of age and I hold a responsible position in a bank.

My husband died five years ago and I've been going with a man who owns a fertilizer business. (I'm fed up on jokes about his business and I've heard them all, so please don't come up with any.)

Last night was Horace's lodge dinner. He belongs to the Moose. I got dressed up in a silk outfit and had my hair set and my nails manicured. I even bought a brocaded shoulder stole for the affair.

Horace came for me a little late but I didn't say anything. I almost died when I saw he was driving his dump truck. I'm not sure but I think it had some fertilizer in it. All he said was, "I sold the car and the new one won't be here till next month."

I'm not a snob but I don't think a dump truck is proper transportation for a middle-aged couple. Should I refuse to ride in it in the future? — EMBARRASSED.

Dear Em: A dump truck is all right for a trip to the beach, maybe, but surely not to a banquet — with you in a brocaded stole, yet. Tell Horace you'd prefer to take the bus until the new car comes in, if it's all the same to him.

Too Talkative

Dear Ann: I'm 21 years old and the mother of a beautiful little daughter. The father of my child refused to marry me. Although I was hurt at first I have come to the conclusion it was all for the best. He was a bum.

I'm very proud of Rochelle and my family and friends know she has no legal father. They treat her kindly and nothing is ever said about it.

Recently I took a new job and moved to another section of town. When I was shopping in the market Saturday a new neighbor asked, "What does your husband do?" I replied, "The baby's father did not marry me. She is an out-of-wedlock child."

The woman's mouth dropped open and she yelled at the top of her lungs, "HOW DID IT HAPPEN?" She knows very well how it happened. Why would she ask such a dumb question?

Please tell me what to say to cruel people who ask questions that are none of their business? — ALONE BUT PROUD.

Dear A. but P.: "What does your husband do?" might be a tasteless question from a casual acquaintance but it is not cruel. YOU invited the cruel question ("How did it happen?") when you volunteered the information that the baby's father did not marry you.

In the future if you are asked about the baby's father, simply say, "He's a plumber — or whatever he is — but we're living apart."

Confidentially

Confidential to Wendy: Stop feeling guilty. Look ahead, not back.

-:-

Confidential to H.B.P.: Yes, they should be told about their father's previous marriage.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Celluloid Damages Linen

Dear Folks: If you are cramped for space and must store your linens in a closet or drawer along with other items, be careful what you are placing next to those precious sheets and pillowcases.

Heloise

The American Institute of Laundering says that when linens appear damaged, you should check carefully the contents of your storage space.

For instance, they found where celluloid automobile frost shields and even celluloid knitting needles decomposed (as they were in a confined space without air circulation) and greatly damaged a large number of sheets stored near them.

So friends, be sure your linens are stored away from anything cellulose plastic just to be on the safe side.

And many thanks to the Institute for bringing this to our attention. Perish the thought of having to replace a drawerful of linens in this day and age!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I know lots of housewives who don't use their food grinders or don't own one, because there's no place to use it in their homes.

For years I looked for a place to clamp my food grinder. Then one day I happened to think of pulling my kitchen table apart and clamping it on the inside where the additional leaf goes.

It works nicely and I use a pot holder to cushion the clamp on top.

DEAR HELOISE: Please tell the girls that their bank books CAN balance at the end of each month!

After each three checks written, total them and subtract from balance brought forward. In other words, give yourselves a cross check for every three checks written.

If you use the standard book showing three checks per page, you can do your figuring on the opposite page which is blank. Any mistake in addition or subtraction will show up at this point and not be a frustration at the end of the month.

New Flag Due To Fly Over Rhodesia Soon

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — The British flag flies over Rhodesia two and a half years after this former colony seized independence from Britain.

Prime Minister Ian Smith indicates a new flag is in the works.

"We have simply retained the flags which the country was using at the time of our independence pending the adoption of a new flag for Rhodesia," he said. "The government is at present studying recommendations for a new design."

E. Liverpool Colts Eliminated In Series

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

High school football practice started all over Ohio Friday, and got under way in Pennsylvania today.

Several members of the East Liverpool High football squad showed up at practice Friday with their heads shaved. They denied any hazing, and said the abbreviated haircuts were designed to keep as cool as possible during the tough early practices.

BOARDMAN TACKLE Larry Wire is on the freshman football squad at Cincinnati U., as is fullback and linebacker Randy McBride of Crestview.

JIM BUNNING'S perfect game against the Mets in 1964 was the first for a Philadelphia pitcher in 50 years, but on the receiving end the Phillies are involved in a lot of no-hitters. The team has been held hitless seven times in the last 15 years, compared with no more than three by any other team. George Culver of the Reds is the latest pitcher to no-hit the Phillies.

AN ARTICLE in last week's Sporting News does a brief feature on Steeler owner Art Rooney and relates that the Steelers are the sentimental choice to win the Century Division title this season because the team has never won a title. Instead of sentiment, the Steelers could use an outstanding quarterback.

JIMMY SMITH, three sport star at Steubenville Big Red this past year, will attend Tennessee St.

Wilkinson Might Lead Rebel Pros

NEW YORK (AP) — Bud Wilkinson, former Oklahoma football coach and formerly a candidate for the U.S. Senate, is the man the pro tournament golfers want to run their organization.

The handsome Oklahoman, now a business executive and part-time television announcer, may be tapped for the post today when the touring players announce the plans and format of their new set-up in competition to the Professional Golfers Association.

Wilkinson could not be reached immediately for comment. Several golfers say they think he is receptive.

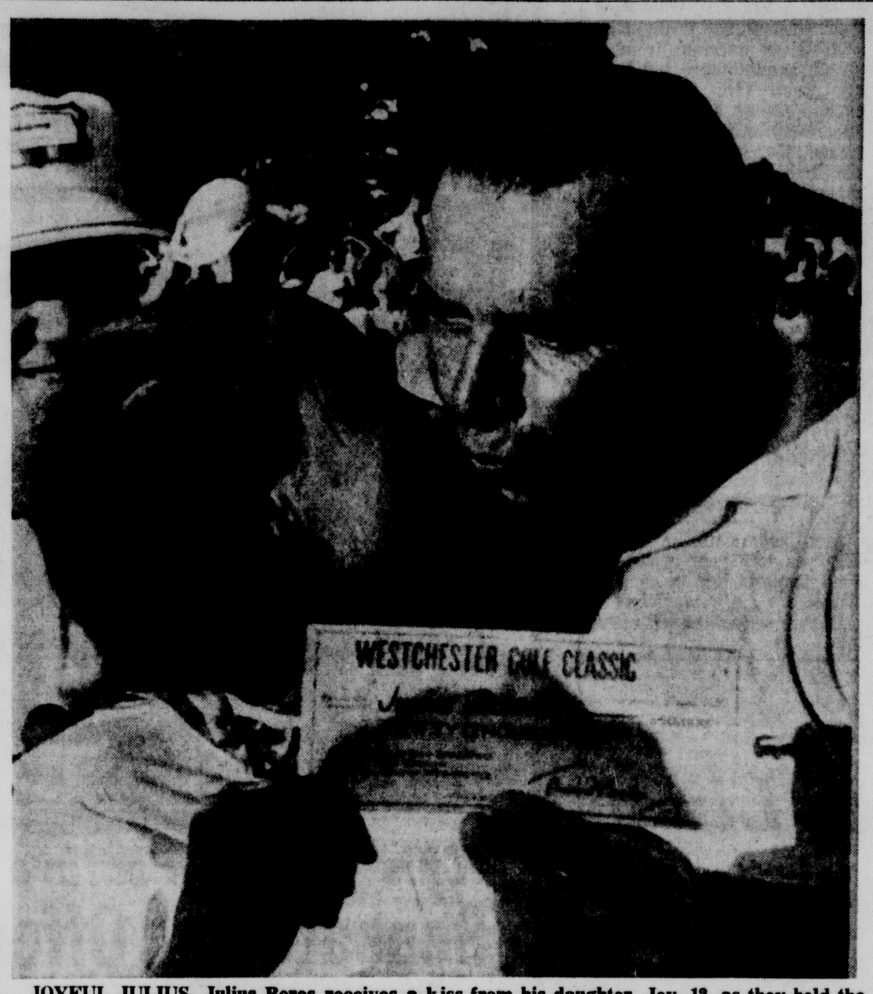

His new position would be that of commissioner of big time tournament golf.

Both the PGA and the players who announced last week that they planned to break away from the parent organization and run their own tour have called press conferences today.

The PGA gets first crack at presenting its case.

It has summoned newsmen to a midtown restaurant where top PGA brass—President Max Elbin, secretary Leo Fraser, executive director Bob Crasy and the new tour manager, Joe Black—will be in attendance.

The players' New York attorney, Sam Gates, will preside at a later press conference at the midtown offices of Nat Fields, who has acted as public relations consultant for the touring pros.

Santa Clara Blanks Locals

East Liverpool's dream of a Colt World Series title came to an end Saturday as Santa Clara, Cal. eliminated the local all-star team 5-0 at Riverside, Cal.

The loss was the second for East Liverpool at the hands of Santa Clara. Don Smith's club had beaten Springfield, Ill. and West Covina, Cal.

Vic Reed started for East Liverpool and gave up all five runs in 1 2-3 innings. Steve Murray finished up. East Liverpool left nine men on base, but couldn't score. The team's best threat was in the fourth when, with the bases loaded, Scott Dubberly slammed a 350-foot drive to center, only to see it caught for the third out.

In the first for Santa Clara, Pete Cifelli walked, Bardowski singled and Merritt singled for one run. In the second Robertson doubled to lead off. Reed got the next two men out, but Cifelli walked, Davis doubled for one run and Bardowski singled in another. Murray came in at this point and was greeted by a single by Merritt for two more runs.

Reds Cage Vulture Regan, Ground Cubs In Twinbill

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Label this file The Case of the Sticky Fingered Vulture or Where Did This Bird Get All That Gooey Stuff?

Chief sleuth in the caper is umpire Chris Pelekoudas, who claims he found the incriminating evidence. . .vaseline. . .on the cap of the suspect, Slippery Phil Regan—alias the vulture—who works with that gang from Chicago.

The main defense attorney is Leo Durocher, an eloquent speaker. His able assistants are Randy Hundley and Al Spangler, two other members of the Chicago gang, who call themselves the Cubs.

All three lawyers were ejected protesting Regan's innocence, and the Cubs lost the ball game, 2-1 to Cincinnati Sunday. The Reds also took the second game of the doubleheader, 6-3, extending their winning streak to six games.

Pirates Win 5-1

In other National League games, St. Louis pounded Atlanta 10-1, Philadelphia tripped San Francisco 5-3, Pittsburgh dropped Los Angeles 5-1 and New York split a doubleheader with Houston, winning 8-1 before losing 5-2.

The Regan fuss erupted in the seventh inning of the first game against the Reds when the veteran reliever came in to face pinch hitter Mack Jones. With the count 1-2 on Jones, Pelekoudas went to the mound to warn Regan about illegal pitches and changed the count to 3-1.

Durocher rushed to his pitcher's defense and the umpire and manager compromised on a 2-2 count. Then Jones apparently flied out but Pelekoudas nullified the play, ruling another illegal pitch and giving Jones another swing.

Now Durocher argued again and the umpires demanded a towel to wipe off the inside of Regan's cap. Durocher and Spangler, who interjected his thoughts from the bench, were both thumbed out and Jones finally grounded out.

Hundley Ejected

In the ninth inning Pete Rose apparently struck out against Regan but again Pelekoudas nullifed the out and gave the batter another swing. This time Rose singled and Hundley, the Cubs' catcher, was ejected.

"We found vaseline on his cap," charged Pelekoudas. "His ball was sinking without spinning. A sinker spins. An illegal pitch breaks down without any spin."

Regan was indignant at the charge. "The umpires are taking my livelihood away from me," he said. "I'm going to court about this."

Cincinnati power made the difference in both games. Tony Perez' fourth-inning homer won the first game with brilliant ninth inning relief by Clay Carroll saving it for George Culver. Perez, Rose, Fred Whitfield and Alex Johnson all homered in the nightcap.

Roger Maris and Orlando Cepeda tagged two hits apiece in a nine-run first inning explosion that carried the Cardinals past Atlanta. Mike Shannon had four straight hits for St. Louis and Ray Washburn breezed to his 11th victory.

Cepeda and Phil Gagliano drove in two runs each in the big first inning after an error by shortstop Marty Martinez opened the gates.

Veale Allows 4 Hits

Bob Veale pitched a four-hitter and the Pirates trimmed the Dodgers, scoring two runs on an error by Bob Bailey.

Fred Patek's run-scoring single in the seventh snapped a scoreless duel between Veale and Don Sutton. Then Bailey's error gave the Pirates two more.

Successive eighth inning homers by Rich Allen and Bill White carried the Phillies past the Giants. Allen's 25th homer snapped a 3-3 tie and then White's No. 9 and second of the game wropped it up for Philadelphia.

Don Cardwell scattered six hits and singled in the first two New York runs as the Mets ripped Houston in the first game. Four Astro errors led to three unearned runs for New York.

Jim Ray allowed just four hits and struck out 10, nailing down the nightcap and gaining the split for Houston. Jim Wynn hit his 19th homer of the year and third in as many days against the Mets.

Travers Won By Chompion At Saratoga

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

He makes a great stretch run over a muddy track and beats 10 other colts who have won stakes. He's a champion, right?

Wrong. He's a Chompion.

He's C.V. Whitney's Chompion, who never won a stakes race. That is until last Saturday's $85,850 Travers at Saratoga.

Although it is extremely unlikely the son of Tompion-Mahratta will be named this year's champion 3-year-old colt, in winning the Travers he beat the leading contender—Calumet Farm's Forward Pass.

Chompion beat the game, but tiring Forward Pass to the wire by 1¾ lengths, running the 1¼ miles over a track made muddy by a heavy morning rain in 2:04 4-5.

Wheatley Stable's Funny Fellow came from far back to be third, a length back of Forward Pass and three lengths ahead of William Haggin Perry's Dewan.

Chompion, ridden by French jockey Jean Cruget, paid a winning mutuel of $31.20 in picking up first money of $55,802.50. In a career that now shows four victories in 26 starts, Chompion has earned $100,747.50.

Trainer Ivor Balding said the Travers winner's next start will be the 1⅝-mile Lawrence Realization Oct. 16 at Belmont Park in which he will meet Lloyd I. Miller's sensational 3-year-old filly, Dark Mirage.

Boros Wins Westchester

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Watching him play, all loose and relaxed and smooth-swinging, you'd think there wasn't a nerve, not a one, in Julius Boros' middle-aged, overweight body.

Not so, admitted Big Julie after surviving a five-man scramble Sunday and nailing down the $50,000 first prize in the $250,000 Westchester Classic Golf Tournament, the richest on the pro tour.

"I know what it looks like," the 48-year-old Boros said. "But I get the flutters sometimes, just like anybody else. There are times out there when I get excited."

Boros, who became the oldest man to win the Professional Golfers' Association championship earlier this year, came from three strokes off the pace with final round 68, four-under-par for the tight, 6,648-yard Westchester Country Club course, and finished with a 72-hole total of 272.

Jack Nicklaus, defending champion and seeking his third consecutive tour victory, veteran Dan Sikes and red-headed Bob Murphy, the rookie who led all of the first three rounds, finished in a tie for second, at 273.

Nicklaus had a closing 66, Sikes a 68 and the obviously nervous Murphy a par 72. They picked up $20,416 apiece.

Billy Casper, who was in the alone in fifth place with a 67 for 275.

Boros, 20 pounds overweight and at times bothered by an ailing back, increased his yearly earnings to $144,357, and started thinking about the tax man.

"I've got to pay my third quarter estimate in September," he mused after noting that it wasn't his biggest payday.

"I won a $50,000 first prize in a world championship they used to have, back in 1955. And I played 56 exhibitions at $1,000 a shot. So that brought me $106,000.

"I was telling my wife the other day that things seemed to be getting flat, that everything tastes the same. But something like this can change it."

E. Liverpool Colts Eliminated In Series

MONDAY, AUGUST 19, 1968 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 18

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

High school football practice started all over Ohio Friday, and got under way in Pennsylvania today.

Several members of the East Liverpool High football squad showed up at practice Friday with their heads shaved. They denied any hazing, and said the abbreviated haircuts were designed to keep as cool as possible during the tough early practices.

BOARDMAN TACKLE Larry Wire is on the freshman football squad at Cincinnati U., as is fullback and linebacker Randy McBride of Crestview.

JIM BUNNING'S perfect game against the Mets in 1964 was the first for a Philadelphia pitcher in 50 years, but on the receiving end the Phillies are involved in a lot of no-hitters. The team has been held hitless seven times in the last 15 years, compared with no more than three by any other team. George Culver of the Reds is the latest pitcher to no-hit the Phillies.

AN ARTICLE in last week's Sporting News does a brief feature on Steeler owner Art Rooney and relates that the Steelers are the sentimental choice to win the Century Division title this season because the team has never won a title. Instead of sentiment, the Steelers could use an outstanding quarterback.

JIMMY SMITH, three sport star at Steubenville Big Red this past year, will attend Tennessee St.

Wilkinson Might Lead Rebel Pros

NEW YORK (AP) — Bud Wilkinson, former Oklahoma football coach and formerly a candidate for the U.S. Senate, is the man the pro tournament golfers want to run their organization.

The handsome Oklahoman, now a business executive and part-time television announcer, may be tapped for the post today when the touring players announce the plans and format of their new set-up in competition to the Professional Golfers Association.

Wilkinson could not be reached immediately for comment. Several golfers say they think he is receptive.

His new position would be that of commissioner of big time tournament golf.

Both the PGA and the players who announced last week that they planned to break away from the parent organization and run their own tour have called press conferences today.

The PGA gets first crack at presenting its case.

It has summoned newsmen to a midtown restaurant where top PGA brass—President Max Elbin, secretary Leo Fraser, executive director Bob Crasy and the new tour manager, Joe Black—will be in attendance.

The players' New York attorney, Sam Gates, will preside at a later press conference at the midtown offices of Nat Fields, who has acted as public relations consultant for the touring pros.

Santa Clara Blanks Locals

East Liverpool's dream of a Colt World Series title came to an end Saturday as Santa Clara, Cal. eliminated the local all-star team 5-0 at Riverside, Cal.

The loss was the second for East Liverpool at the hands of Santa Clara. Don Smith's club had beaten Springfield, Ill. and West Covina, Cal.

Vic Reed started for East Liverpool and gave up all five runs in 1 2-3 innings. Steve Murray finished up. East Liverpool left nine men on base, but couldn't score. The team's best threat was in the fourth when, with the bases loaded, Scott Dubberly slammed a 350-foot drive to center, only to see it caught for the third out.

In the first for Santa Clara, Pete Cifelli walked, Bardowski singled and Merritt singled for one run. In the second Robertson doubled to lead off. Reed got the next two men out, but Cifelli walked, Davis doubled for one run and Bardowski singled in another. Murray came in at this point and was greeted by a single by Merritt for two more runs.

Reds Cage Vulture Regan, Ground Cubs In Twinbill

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Label this file The Case of the Sticky Fingered Vulture or Where Did This Bird Get All That Gooey Stuff?

Chief sleuth in the caper is umpire Chris Pelekoudas, who claims he found the incriminating evidence. . .vaseline. . .on the cap of the suspect, Slippery Phil Regan—alias the vulture—who works with that gang from Chicago.

The main defense attorney is Leo Durocher, an eloquent speaker. His able assistants are Randy Hundley and Al Spangler, two other members of the Chicago gang, who call themselves the Cubs.

All three lawyers were ejected protesting Regan's innocence, and the Cubs lost the ball game, 2-1 to Cincinnati Sunday. The Reds also took the second game of the doubleheader, 6-3, extending their winning streak to six games.

Pirates Win 5-1

In other National League games, St. Louis pounded Atlanta 10-1, Philadelphia tripped San Francisco 5-3, Pittsburgh dropped Los Angeles 5-1 and New York split a doubleheader with Houston, winning 8-1 before losing 5-2.

The Regan fuss erupted in the seventh inning of the first game against the Reds when the veteran reliever came in to face pinch hitter Mack Jones. With the count 1-2 on Jones, Pelekoudas went to the mound to warn Regan about illegal pitches and changed the count to 3-1.

Durocher rushed to his pitcher's defense and the umpire and manager compromised on a 2-2 count. Then Jones apparently flied out but Pelekoudas nullified the play, ruling another illegal pitch and giving Jones another swing.

Now Durocher argued again and the umpires demanded a towel to wipe off the inside of Regan's cap. Durocher and Spangler, who interjected his thoughts from the bench, were both thumbed out and Jones finally grounded out.

Hundley Ejected

In the ninth inning Pete Rose apparently struck out against Regan but again Pelekoudas nullifed the out and gave the batter another swing. This time Rose singled and Hundley, the Cubs' catcher, was ejected.

"We found vaseline on his cap," charged Pelekoudas. "His ball was sinking without spinning. A sinker spins. An illegal pitch breaks down without any spin."

Regan was indignant at the charge. "The umpires are taking my livelihood away from me," he said. "I'm going to court about this."

Cincinnati power made the difference in both games. Tony Perez' fourth-inning homer won the first game with brilliant ninth inning relief by Clay Carroll saving it for George Culver. Perez, Rose, Fred Whitfield and Alex Johnson all homered in the nightcap.

Roger Maris and Orlando Cepeda tagged two hits apiece in a nine-run first inning explosion that carried the Cardinals past Atlanta. Mike Shannon had four straight hits for St. Louis and Ray Washburn breezed to his 11th victory.

Cepeda and Phil Gagliano drove in two runs each in the big first inning after an error by shortstop Marty Martinez opened the gates.

Veale Allows 4 Hits

Bob Veale pitched a four-hitter and the Pirates trimmed the Dodgers, scoring two runs on an error by Bob Bailey.

Fred Patek's run-scoring single in the seventh snapped a scoreless duel between Veale and Don Sutton. Then Bailey's error gave the Pirates two more.

Successive eighth inning homers by Rich Allen and Bill White carried the Phillies past the Giants. Allen's 25th homer snapped a 3-3 tie and then White's No. 9 and second of the game wropped it up for Philadelphia.

Don Cardwell scattered six hits and singled in the first two New York runs as the Mets ripped Houston in the first game. Four Astro errors led to three unearned runs for New York.

Jim Ray allowed just four hits and struck out 10, nailing down the nightcap and gaining the split for Houston. Jim Wynn hit his 19th homer of the year and third in as many days against the Mets.

Travers Won By Chompion At Saratoga

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

He makes a great stretch run over a muddy track and beats 10 other colts who have won stakes. He's a champion, right?

Wrong. He's a Chompion.

He's C.V. Whitney's Chompion, who never won a stakes race. That is until last Saturday's $85,850 Travers at Saratoga.

Although it is extremely unlikely the son of Tompion-Mahratta will be named this year's champion 3-year-old colt, in winning the Travers he beat the leading contender—Calumet Farm's Forward Pass.

Chompion beat the game, but tiring Forward Pass to the wire by 1¾ lengths, running the 1¼ miles over a track made muddy by a heavy morning rain in 2:04 4-5.

Wheatley Stable's Funny Fellow came from far back to be third, a length back of Forward Pass and three lengths ahead of William Haggin Perry's Dewan.

Chompion, ridden by French jockey Jean Cruget, paid a winning mutuel of $31.20 in picking up first money of $55,802.50. In a career that now shows four victories in 26 starts, Chompion has earned $100,747.50.

Trainer Ivor Balding said the Travers winner's next start will be the 1⅝-mile Lawrence Realization Oct. 16 at Belmont Park in which he will meet Lloyd I. Miller's sensational 3-year-old filly, Dark Mirage.

Graebner Beats Gisbert, U.S. Wins Cup Match

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — "Remember Barcelona!" and the American Davis Cup team did.

Uncle Sam sank the Spanish tennis Armada Sunday, winning the crucial interzone series and becoming highly favored to sail on and capture the coveted Cup in Australia in December.

The Americans last accomplished this mission in 1963. And it looked as if they were on their way again in 1965. But in Barcedona, the Spaniards squelched them 4-1. They never forgot it.

Powerful Clark Graebner, Wimbledon semifinalist and National Clay Courts champion this year, fired the deciding broadside Sunday.

He defeated Juan Gisbert, 26-year-old Barcelona attorney, 9-7, 6-3, 6-1 in the climactic first singles engagement that cinched the best-of-5 interzone series for the U.S., 3-1.

The final score, however, must await today's delayed outcome of the match between Arthur Ashe, on loan from the Army, against Spain's superstar Manuel Santana. The two battled for 3 hours, 45 minutes to a deadlock Sunday before the match was halted by darkness.

Santana won the first set 13-11. Ashe, who aced a total of 26 times, took the next two 7-5 and 6-3. Then the 30-year-old Spaniard struggled to a 15-13 triumph in the 90-minute fourth set.

With one point being awarded for each match victory, it remains for the Santana-Ashe affair to decide if the U.S. took the series 4-1 or 3-2.

Both team captains, Jaime Bartroli of Spain and Don Dell of the U.S., said that although the last match was anticlimactic the pride of the countries as well as that of the players was involved.

Spain was the big hurdle in the American's road to Australia, whose team is decimated by its big stars turning professional.

The U.S. swept past British West Indies, Mexico and Ecuador with 5-0 triumphs. In the interzone lineup, the Americans now must wait until India plays Japan in Tokyo Sept. 21-23, with the survivor advancing within the following two weeks to face West Germany in Munich.

That winner then will meet the Americans, who can choose the site of the match. Most prominently mentioned are Phoenix, Ariz., Honolulu, San Juan, Puerto Rico, and Los Angeles.

After that, the winner challenges the Aussies for the cup in Adelaide.

The bunting game is something Detroit might be able to do without, but Juan Pizarro and the Boston Red Sox are ready and willing to make sacrifices. . .anytime they help cage the runaway Tigers.

The Red Sox, losers Saturday in a 10-9 struggle that turned on a pair of botched Detroit bunts, put on their own bunting exhibition Sunday in trimming the Tigers 4-1 behind left-hander Pizarro.

Three perfectly executed sacrifice bunts, including a go-ahead squeeze by Pizarro, helped the Red Sox salvage the finale of a three-game series as Detroit's American League lead slipped to seven games over second place Baltimore.

The Orioles whipped Minnesota 7-1 on Frank Robinson's slugging; the New York Yankees strolled past Oakland 7-5 in 10 innings; Tommy John and Joe Horlen hurled the Chicago White Sox to a 4-2, 8-1 doubleheader sweep over Cleveland, and California downed Washington 6-4 despite Frank Howard's 35th homer in other AL games.

Freehan Homers

Bill Freehan's 11th inning homer beat Boston Saturday, nullifying a gallant comeback by the Red Sox. But they felt they'd been the victims of two Detroit bunts that didn't come off.

In the eighth, reliever Sparky Lyle grabbed Al Kaline's bunt on the fly, but threw the ball away trying to double Mickey Stanley off first base. Stanley took second on the error and scored on Norm Cash's single, giving Detroit a 9-8 lead.

Ken Harrelson pulled the Red Sox even with a ninth inning homer, but Freehan connected with two out in the 10th after Willie Horton flubbed a bunt attempt and then rapped into a double play.

"It's ironic," said Boston Manager Dick Williams, "but if Horton had sacrificed, Freehan would have never had a chance to hit. With first base open and a light hitter like Ray Oyler coming up next I'd have forced their hand by intentionally walking him."

The clubs were knotted again, at 1-1, in the seventh inning Sunday when Joe Foy doubled and Russ Gibson bunted him to third. With a 3-2 count on Pizarro, Foy broke for the plate and the pitcher dropped a bunt toward second base, giving the Tigers no chance for a play at home.

Jones Drives In 2

Mike Andrews then drew a walk and Dalton Jones belted a home run, making it 4-1. Andrews failed to hit safely for the first time in 10 games, but his sacrifice bunt in the third moved Pizarro, who had walked, to second and Carl Yastrzemski delivered a two-out single for Boston's first run.

Pizarro checked the Tigers on four hits, including Horton's 28th homer, on the way to his fifth victory in nine decisions.

The Orioles flattened Minnesota behind rookie Dave Leonhard, who scattered seven hits, as Frank Robinson drove in four runs with a single, a double and his 11th homer. Mark Belanger's two-run double in the third inning gave Leonhard, 6-5, a 2-0 lead and Robinson took it from there.

Lew Krausse, the sixth Oakland pitcher, walked Rocky Colavito and Frank Fernandez with the bases loaded in the 10th, enabling the Yankees to complete a 6-1 road trip to the West Coast. Andy Kosco homered for New York while Reggie Jackson accounted for three of the Athletics' runs with a double and his 23rd homer.

Sox Take Two

John and Horlen each fired a six-hitter as the White Sox snapped a four-game losing streak with their double victory over the Indians. Duane Josephson's two-run homer in the eighth inning of the opener broke a 1-1 tie and the White Sox struck for three runs, two of them on Buddy Bradford's double, in the fourth inning of the nightcap before pulling away with the help of a two-run homer by Ron Hansen.

Tom Burgmeier scored the tie-breaking run at Anaheim on an eighth inning throwing error by Senators reliever Phil Ortega. The Angels added two more runs before repulsing a ninth inning Washington rally touched off by Brant Alyea's first homer. The Senators used five pinch hitters in the ninth, tying the American League record for one inning.

Dallas Physically Tough, May Be Traumatized

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys still have the physical equipment to win a National Football League championship. But the question is: Can the Eastern Division kings overcome the trauma of twice being snakebite victims?

Coach Tom Landry puts it this way:

"We can build up an artificial outside crust, but you wonder just how we'll react if and when we get down to those last crucial seconds again."

The stoic Landry was of course referring to the dramatic NFL playoffs the last two seasons with the Green Bay Packers.

The nerve-wrenching battles went to the Paul Bunyans from the North 34-27 in 1966 when Dallas failed to score from the Green Bay two in the closing seconds and again last season 21-17.

The Cowboys will enter the NFL season, opening with the Detroit Lions Sept. 15 in the Cotton Bowl, with virtually a set team.

Meredith In Shape

Veteran quarterback Don Meredith, with a new three-year contract, returns hale and hearty from an up-and-down 1967 in which he suffered rib injuries, pneumonia and a broken nose. He was brilliant in the Eastern Division title game against the Cleveland Browns and only so-so against the Packers in minus 13-degree cold at Green Bay. He's had an excellent preseason.

In the backfield with Meredith will be four-year man Dan Reeves, a deceptively shifty runner who picked up 603 yards rushing last season and frightened most of the NFL's cornerbacks with his halfback pass.

Eight-year fullback Don Perkins, a great blocker and a small but explosive runner who has fumbled but once in two years, again returns. He is seventh on the all-time NFL rushing charts. The flanker is impala-like Lance Rentzel, a jumping jack who sped 996 yards with 58 catches last season — a goodly number on the running pass from Reeves.

Game Breaker Hayes

At end is the bullet — Bob Hayes — whom Landry calls "our game breaker." Hayes has scored 35 touchdowns on pass receptions in his three seasons in the NFL and now has former Baltimore great Ray Berry to teach him some moves to go along with his speed.

Other vets on offense include rugged tight end Pettis Norman, All-Pro tackle Ralph Neely, tackle Tony Liscio, center Dave Manders, who was out with a bad knee last season, and guards Leon Donohue, who comes off knee surgery, and John Niland.

The only rookie likely to see much offensive duty is first round draft choice Dennis Homan of Alabama, a sticky-fingered flanker.

The doomsday Dallas defense is another pressure-hardened group, but dangerously thin at linebacker and possibly porous in the secondary despite the presence of All-Pro cornerback Cornell Green. Few rookies, if any, will see action here.

Other All-Pros include catquick tackle Bob Lilly, a 260-pound half-back-mashing minster, and Chuck Howley, probably the fastest linebacker in the NFL. Steady Leroy Jordan and Dave Edwards are the other linebackers.

A Strong Line

Huge defensive tackle Jethro Pugh and veteran ends George Andrie and Willie Townes make up the front four again with Lilly. The Cowboys were No. 1 in the NFL against the rush last year.

Landry himself will take over the chore of shoring up the leaky secondary now that defensive back coach Dick Nolan moved to San Francisco as head coach.

"We must improve our pass defense . . . we've got to have the best," said Landry.

Besides Green, safeties Mike Gechter and Mel Renfro and young cornerback Mike Johnson complete the secondary.

Nix Hurls 3 TD Passes

Steelers Edge Chargers, Don Shy, Earl Gros Hurt

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers have won their first exhibition game but lost their first-string running backs with shoulder injuries.

Both Don Shy and Earl Gros were hurt in Saturday night's 36-33 victory over the San Diego Chargers and probably will not play in next Sunday's game against Cincinnati.

Shy hurt his shoulder returning the opening kickoff, stayed in for one scrimmage play but returned to the sidelines when the shoulder went numb. A club spokesman said he might have a slight separation.

Gros suffered a bruised shoulder late in the first quarter and watched the rest of the game from the bench with his right arm in a sling.

Defensive backs Lou Harris and Bobby Wade, flanker Roy Jefferson and quarterback Kent Nix all were hurt in the game, but none seriously.

Nix, who went all the way at quarterback, completed 20 of 38 passes for 289 yards and three touchdowns. He ran for the Steelers' other touchdown and a conversion and also passed twice for extra points. Jefferson grabbed six passes for 134 yards.

Bill Shockley's 17-year field goal with 19 seconds left, his third of the game, proved the difference. He also had a 30-yarder in the first quarter and a 28-yarder midway through the fourth period.

John Hilton, Dick Hoak and Dick Compton were on the receiving end of Nix's touchdown tosses.

San Diego quarterback John Hadl passed for 394 yards including touchdown passes to Lance Alworth and Gary Garrison.

The Steelers established temporary training quarters this week at Palo Alto, Calif. They'll return to Latrobe, Pa., on Friday for Sunday's contest with the Bengals at Morgantown, W. Va.

HIHS 'A' Team Wins Tourney

The HIHS 'A' team survived a protest to win the HIHS Little League tournament.

The HIHS 'A' team beat Newell 6-0 in a straightforward game Saturday night. But Friday's game between the HIHS 'A' and 'B' teams was marked by a protest by the 'B' team manager. The protest was upheld and the game replayed on Saturday from the third inning. The 'A' team won 12-11 with Myron Jones hitting a homer. Jon Talbot had one for the losers.

CLARK CLINCHES. Clark Graebner of the U.S. Davis Cup tennis team is shown returning a shot against Juan Gisbert of Spain in Cleveland yesterday. Graebener won 9-7, 6-3, 6-1 to clinch the team win for the U.S. (UPI Telephoto)

Graebner Beats Gisbert, U.S. Wins Cup Match

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — "Remember Barcelona!" and the American Davis Cup team did.

Uncle Sam sank the Spanish tennis Armada Sunday, winning the crucial interzone series and becoming highly favored to sail on and capture the coveted Cup in Australia in December.

The Americans last accomplished this mission in 1963. And it looked as if they were on their way again in 1965. But in Barcedona, the Spaniards squelched them 4-1. They never forgot it.

Powerful Clark Graebner, Wimbledon semifinalist and National Clay Courts champion this year, fired the deciding broadside Sunday.

He defeated Juan Gisbert, 26-year-old Barcelona attorney, 9-7, 6-3, 6-1 in the climactic first singles engagement that cinched the best-of-5 interzone series for the U.S., 3-1.

The final score, however, must await today's delayed outcome of the match between Arthur Ashe, on loan from the Army, against Spain's superstar Manuel Santana. The two battled for 3 hours, 45 minutes to a deadlock Sunday before the match was halted by darkness.

Santana won the first set 13-11. Ashe, who aced a total of 26 times, took the next two 7-5 and 6-3. Then the 30-year-old Spaniard struggled to a 15-13 triumph in the 90-minute fourth set.

With one point being awarded for each match victory, it remains for the Santana-Ashe affair to decide if the U.S. took the series 4-1 or 3-2.

Both team captains, Jaime Bartroli of Spain and Don Dell of the U.S., said that although the last match was anticlimactic the pride of the countries as well as that of the players was involved.

Spain was the big hurdle in the American's road to Australia, whose team is decimated by its big stars turning professional.

The U.S. swept past British West Indies, Mexico and Ecuador with 5-0 triumphs. In the interzone lineup, the Americans now must wait until India plays Japan in Tokyo Sept. 21-23, with the survivor advancing within the following two weeks to face West Germany in Munich.

That winner then will meet the Americans, who can choose the site of the match. Most prominently mentioned are Phoenix, Ariz., Honolulu, San Juan, Puerto Rico, and Los Angeles.

After that, the winner challenges the Aussies for the cup in Adelaide.

Pizarro Beats Tigers, Orioles Cut Lead To 7

Houston Upsets Saints; Browns Bomb 49ers

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

There was a snag in the New Orleans Saints' defensive blanket. Houston quarterback Pete Beathard found it and unraveled the cover with his feet.

With Houston trailing 23-17 and only 56 seconds remaining in the game at the Astrodome, Beathard went back to pass. But his receivers were given blanket coverage.

So, Beathard forgot about his arm and concentrated on his footwork to ramble through a hole for six yards and the tying touchdown. Sid Blanks then ran around right end for the extra point, giving the Oilers of the American Football League a 24-23 victory over the National Football League Saints.

In Sunday's only other exhibition, the Cleveland Browns battered the San Francisco 49ers 31-17 in a meeting of NFL clubs.

Steelers Win 36-33

Dallas, NFL, trounced Los Angeles, NFL, 42-10; Miami, AFL, pounded Philadelphia, NFL, 23-7; Pittsburgh, NFL, edged San Diego, AFL, 36-33; New York, NFL, nipped Atlanta, NFL, 17-13; Kansas City, AFL, outlasted St. Louis, NFL, 13-10; Minnesota, NFL, walloped Denver, AFL, 39-16; Buffalo, AFL, topped Cincinnati, AFL, 10-6, and New York, AFL, thrashed Boston, AFL, 25-6.

The weekend's activity ends Monday night with an NFL game between the Green Bay Packers and the Chicago Bears in Milwaukee, Wis.

The nationally televised game (CBS at 9:30 p.m., EDT) will be the first meeting of the old rivals under their new coaches—Jim Dooley for the Bears and Phil Bengston for the Packers.

Once again the Packers will have to worry about stopping the running of Chicago's brilliant Gale Sayers, while the Bears will have to contain the machine-like Packer offense directed by Bart Starr.

New Orleans built up a 23-7 lead on Bill Kilmer's two touchdown passes, Don McCall's touchdown run and Charlie Durkee's field goal. Kilmer's attempted pass for a conversion after his second touchdown toss failed.

Beathard Scores

Beathard ran three yards for a Houston touchdown in the second period. The Oiler's first touchdown in the final period came on a 39-yard run by Ken Houston with a pass interception, and it was followed by John Wittenborn's 47-yard field goal.

Frank Ryan threw a first period scoring pass and Bill Nelson, obtained from Pittsburgh, hit on two in the second half in leading Cleveland to victory. George Mira, who had two passes intercepted to set up Cleveland touchdowns, threw for one of San Francisco's scores.

Don Meredith threw two 58-yard touchdown passes in the first quarter for Dallas, and Los Angeles never recovered as the Rams suffered their first exhibition loss after 11 straight preseason victories.

Eagles Injured

Philadelphia not only lost its game to Miami, it also lost seven players to injuries. Running back Harry Jones dislocated and fractured his left collarbone and will be out from eight to 12 weeks, and middle linebacker Dave Lloyd cracked two ribs and is expected to be out for three weeks. The other injuries were less serious.

Minnesota also lost Gary Cuozzo for at least next Saturday's game against Philadelphia. The quarterback jammed his left shoulder late in the first half in the Vikings' victory over Denver.

Baltimore fans got some good news Sunday when the NFL Colts announced they had persuaded halfback Timmy Brown to play this season. Brown, obtained from Philadelphia for whom he had played eight seasons, had said he wanted to devote full time to an acting career.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Andy Will Miss Mayberry

Hal Humphrey is on vacation. He has a guest columnist today—Andy Griffith, star of the Andy Griffith series which has just wound up its eighth season, with Andy leaving it for movies and TV specials.

People keep asking me why I quit my television series after eight years. How often does a performer get a chance to make pictures under fine conditions? But when you suddenly leave a lot of people you have been close to for eight years, you get sad.

Stage 1 at Paramount Cahuenga (I still think of it as Desilu) became my second home and it's sort of sad to have to pull up roots.

But it was time. We were successful, I guess you'd have to say, and we had a lot of fun. You can't really make a successful show unless you're enjoying it. But it was time.

SOMEBODY asked me several years ago why I hadn't made any movies lately and I said it was because nobody had asked me to. I remember a publicist kicked me under the table when I said that. But it was true. I didn't particularly like it, but I said it.

Then I finally did get an offer to make a picture. In fact, Universal offered me a whole contract, two pictures a year for five years. At the same time, CBS offered me a contract—one special a year for five years. And I guess that sort of did it.

I'M NOT fooling myself that everybody at Universal was jumping up and down saying they had to get Andy Griffith or they'd go out of business. I don't think it was like that at all.

What happened: my manager, Dick Linke, went to them and had a talk. Dick is a pretty good talker. It all sort of comes out of the side of his mouth, like he was letting them in on the biggest secret deal of the year, and first thing they knew they were signing papers. I've been with Dick for some 14 years now and I have one solid rule: I don't leave the city limits of Los Angeles unless he's with me.

But it's not like I'm leaving television forever. Dick and our old TV producer, Bob Ross, put together a new series called "Mayberry, RFD," which, of course, is the name of the little North Carolina town that was the setting for our own show.

SOME PEOPLE like to think it's just a sort of continuation of the Andy Griffith Show, but it's really not. The star is a nice and very talented fellow named Ken Berry and he will inevitably put his own stamp on the show as it goes along.

He'll be surrounded by some of our old regulars, like George Lindsay and Jack Dodson and Paul Hartman and occasionally Frances Bavier, and I'll be in four of the episodes myself. But eventually it's going to be Ken Berry's show and that's the way it should be.

Frankly, I'm glad the spirit of "Mayberry" will still be around on television. It's a sort of slice of Americana in its own quiet way. People today like to talk about "tell it like it is," but I think it's important that television let people know that there's another "like it is" and Mayberry is a very good example of it.

I KNOW because I grew up in a town exactly like it in North Carolina. That's America, too, and in many ways I think maybe it's one of the most important parts of America.

One more thing and then I'll get off. I don't want to be one of those actors who make a name for themselves in television and then just turn their backs and walk away from it as though it didn't exist. I don't know exactly what I am today, but whatever it is television did it for me.

I appreciate it.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Andy Will Miss Mayberry

Hal Humphrey is on vacation. He has a guest columnist today—Andy Griffith, star of the Andy Griffith series which has just wound up its eighth season, with Andy leaving it for movies and TV specials.

People keep asking me why I quit my television series after eight years. How often does a performer get a chance to make pictures under fine conditions? But when you suddenly leave a lot of people you have been close to for eight years, you get sad.

Stage 1 at Paramount Cahuenga (I still think of it as Desilu) became my second home and it's sort of sad to have to pull up roots.

But it was time. We were successful, I guess you'd have to say, and we had a lot of fun. You can't really make a successful show unless you're enjoying it. But it was time.

SOMEBODY asked me several years ago why I hadn't made any movies lately and I said it was because nobody had asked me to. I remember a publicist kicked me under the table when I said that. But it was true. I didn't particularly like it, but I said it.

Then I finally did get an offer to make a picture. In fact, Universal offered me a whole contract, two pictures a year for five years. At the same time, CBS offered me a contract—one special a year for five years. And I guess that sort of did it.

I'M NOT fooling myself that everybody at Universal was jumping up and down saying they had to get Andy Griffith or they'd go out of business. I don't think it was like that at all.

What happened: my manager, Dick Linke, went to them and had a talk. Dick is a pretty good talker. It all sort of comes out of the side of his mouth, like he was letting them in on the biggest secret deal of the year, and first thing they knew they were signing papers. I've been with Dick for some 14 years now and I have one solid rule: I don't leave the city limits of Los Angeles unless he's with me.

But it's not like I'm leaving television forever. Dick and our old TV producer, Bob Ross, put together a new series called "Mayberry, RFD," which, of course, is the name of the little North Carolina town that was the setting for our own show.

SOME PEOPLE like to think it's just a sort of continuation of the Andy Griffith Show, but it's really not. The star is a nice and very talented fellow named Ken Berry and he will inevitably put his own stamp on the show as it goes along.

He'll be surrounded by some of our old regulars, like George Lindsay and Jack Dodson and Paul Hartman and occasionally Frances Bavier, and I'll be in four of the episodes myself. But eventually it's going to be Ken Berry's show and that's the way it should be.

Frankly, I'm glad the spirit of "Mayberry" will still be around on television. It's a sort of slice of Americana in its own quiet way. People today like to talk about "tell it like it is," but I think it's important that television let people know that there's another "like it is" and Mayberry is a very good example of it.

I KNOW because I grew up in a town exactly like it in North Carolina. That's America, too, and in many ways I think maybe it's one of the most important parts of America.

One more thing and then I'll get off. I don't want to be one of those actors who make a name for themselves in television and then just turn their backs and walk away from it as though it didn't exist. I don't know exactly what I am today, but whatever it is television did it for me.

I appreciate it.

Cheek Hair Stirs Burning Debate

NEW YORK (AP) — John Quincy Adams had them. So did Martin Van Buren. But what was okay for 19th century presidents isn't okay for employes of Northwest Orient Airlines today.

The airline has suspended 14 cargo handlers at Kennedy Airport because, like Adams, Van Buren and a number of more modern males, they wore their sideburns long.

George Parker, the airline's cargo manager, posted a directive last Wednesday, reading, "Sideburns should not be below the middle of the ear."

Parker, who waged a successful campaign against employes' beards last May, gave the men until midnight Saturday to get rid of the extra cheek hair.

Then he called all the men on the four to midnight and midnight to eight shifts into his office. Only four passed inspection.

The 14 with sideburns were sent home, but appealed to their unoin the International Association of Machinists, which set up a meeting with company representatives today to discuss the situation.

"We're not even seen by the public," said one of the cargo handlers. "Our haircuts are in style right now and we're presentable. That's enough!"

The cargo handlers might be encouraged to learn that a California man who works for the U.S. Navy as a technical illustrator at Point Mugu Pacific Missile Range has won his fight to keep both his job and his long hair.

Richard Beckley was fired seven months ago for what the Navy called "poor taste in appearance evidenced by hair of an undue length, a beard and boots."

Beckley appeared. The U.S. Civil Service Commission's Washington office ordered the Navy to reinstate him.

Beckley now is back at work.

POWER TOWER weighs more than 192,000 pounds and is about 28 feet tall. Powered by a 6,000 horsepower motor, the giant controlled-leakage pump is designed to move 88,500 gallons of water per minute through the reactor of a modern nuclear generating station. Westinghouse employe Joseph J. Autore is dwarfed by the huge pump as he readies it for final testing at Cheswick, Pa.

Vietnam Brig Incident

'Agitators' Transferred In Marine Stockade Riot

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — A U.S. spokesman said today that 40 "agitators" had been moved from the riot-torn Marine brig in an attempt to restore order.

The 40 men were guarded by 120 military police, after being cut off from the other prisoners with a teargas barrage Sunday, then marched to a smaller barbed-wire compound nearby.

Lt. Col. Joseph M. Gambardella, commander of the 300-prisoner brig just northwest of Da Nang, said there were no injuries in an outburst Sunday. It erupted when about 70 parolees and trusties began packing their gear to be moved to another area.

Resentment built up among the other prisoners, a spokesman said, and about 40 began rampaging through the compound.

He said Gambardella sent in his riot force of MPs, and they fired some 20 canisters of tear gas to suppress the riot.

Trouble first broke out in the brig Friday night when many prisoners began a noisy protest against cold food, long delays awaiting trial and prison regulations.

Eight prisoners and one guard were injured, none seriously, Gambardella said.

The prisoners held the compound for nearly 20 hours, freeing 17 inmates in the maximum security cellblock and burning the block down before order was temporarily restored Saturday night.

The Sunday afternoon flareup was over in less than two hours.

An investigation is under way to consider the prisoners' grievances and possible disciplinary action against suspected ringleaders.

The Marine command has refused to grant newsmen permission to interview any of the inmates or guards or to take photographs inside or near the brig.

During Court Appearance

Bushy-Haired Defendant Volunteers To See Barber

A bushy-haired defendant who apparently had heard of the distaste expressed by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff for excessively long tresses on males volunteered today to see his barber before he returns to court Friday for continuation of his hearing on two charges.

David M. Mellinger, 18, of Grimms Bridge was facing the court on charges of driving an auto with a license tag belonging to another vehicle and operating a car without a driver's license. He was cited by the patrol Sunday at 1:10 p.m.

THE COURT issued a bench warrant for Robert E. Dunlap, 63, of W. 5th St., cited by Edgell Sunday at 11:52 p. m. on a charge of crashing a stop sign at Hess and Campbell Rds.

Two out - of - town motorists cited by the patrol forfeited $27.50 bonds. They were Gregory Voutsikis, 25, of Weirton, accused of speeding Thursday night on Route 7, and Earlene F. Root, 25, of New Bedford, Pa., arrested Friday on Route 7 on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Jessie Collins of Smiths Ferry RD, cited on a public intoxication charge early today after his car hit a fence on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd.," forfeited a $32.50 appearance bond.

Burrows Ave. paid a fine of $10 and costs on a charge of driving left of center. He was cited Friday at 8 p. m. on Anderson Blvd. by Constable Thomas Edgell of Liverpool Township. Donald W. Russell of 1229 Center St., Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of crashing a stop sign on Campground Rd. He was cited by Edgell Sunday at 11:40 p.m..

QUESTIONING by the court disclosed that he had paid $15 for the old auto. When the defendant volunteered to dispose of the car, the judge granted him a continuance until Friday. Mellinger had pleaded guilty to both counts.

Mellinger apparently had noted some quizzical looks by the court at his unusually long, curly hair. Out of the blue, he volunteered to get a haircut before returning to court.

"Very good!" the judge commented. "I see that my reputation has preceded me!" On a couple of occasions in the past, the court "suggested" haircuts for long-haired defendants.

SIX MORE traffic defendants were fined and three forfeited appearance bonds.

Gerald T. McDole, 43, of Smiths Ferry RD 1 was fined $10 and costs on a charge of operating a truck with inadequate mud flaps and ordered to pay costs on a charge of failure to apply for an Ohio highway use tax decal. He was cited by the patrol Friday at 11:15 a. m. on Route 39. Johnny T. Taggart, 27, of Painesville paid a fine of $15 and costs after pleading "no contest" to a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited by the patrol Aug. 11 at 11:12 p. m.

Ronald R. Smallwood, 18, of 411 Aten Ave., Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of riding a motorcycle without a protective eye device required by state law. Darrell L. Wallace, 19, of Clark Ave., Wellsville, who was a passenger on Smallwod's motorcycle, forfeited $17.50 on the same charge. They were cited by the patrol Friday at 1:05 p.m. on Route 7.

Michael R. White, 19, of Lisbon RD 3 was fined $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited by the patrol Saturday at 11:15 p.m. on Route 7.

Peace, Freedom Party Nominates Eldridge Cleaver

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The Peace and Freedom party nominated Eldridge Cleaver as its presidential candidate Sunday, but rejected his choice for a running mate in favor of regional candidates for vice president.

Cleaver picked Jerry Rubin of New York, head of the Yippies —the Youth International party. But many delegates said Rubin would be unattractive as a serious candidate, so they voted to let each of 20 delegations choose a local vice presidential candidate.

No one said how a vice president would be chosen should the party win the presidency in the November election.

Cleaver, information minister for the Black Panthers, told newsmen that his California-based Negro militant group got together with the Peace and Freedom party in an effort to gain viable political machinery.

Businessman Dies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services for Bernard Anton Hodapp, 63, a prominent Columbus businessman and civic leader who died here Sunday, will be held Wednesday.

Woman Treated For Smoke After Fire In Midland

Miss Thelma Dawson of 530 Virginia Ave., Midland, was treated for smoke inhalation Sunday afternoon after trying to extinguish a fire at the home of a relative, Mrs. Della Wadsworth of 520 Virginia Ave.

Members of the Midland volunteer department administered oxygen at the scene.

The fire, in a mattress, is believed to have been started by Mrs. Wadsworth's grandchildren, who were playing with matches in a bedroom.

Firemen, who responded to the alarm at 3:58 p. m., dragged the burning mattress from the home. Damage was confined to the mattress and bed clothes.

A lighted cigarette tossed into an air duct of an air-conditioner at the American Legion home at 800 Midland Ave. was extinguished by firemen at 12:58 a. m. today.

There was slight damage to the woodwork, they said.

Burglars Take Coins Valued At $200,000

INDEPENDENCE, Ore. (AP) —Burglars took $200,000 in rare coins from the safe of Francis Holt. But they left some of the rartst coins and dropped about half the coins they took, Holt said.

Holt said he fired at the burglars when he saw them as he returned home. He said they were not knowledgeable coin thieves, because "they didn't take some of the rarest coins."

Police on the West Coast were alerted and given a list of the missing coins.

The grant makes possible a continuation of a three-year program to train chemical engineers in water pollution control.

Cheek Hair Stirs Burning Debate

NEW YORK (AP) — John Quincy Adams had them. So did Martin Van Buren. But what was okay for 19th century presidents isn't okay for employes of Northwest Orient Airlines today.

The airline has suspended 14 cargo handlers at Kennedy Airport because, like Adams, Van Buren and a number of more modern males, they wore their sideburns long.

George Parker, the airline's cargo manager, posted a directive last Wednesday, reading, "Sideburns should not be below the middle of the ear."

Parker, who waged a successful campaign against employes' beards last May, gave the men until midnight Saturday to get rid of the extra cheek hair.

Then he called all the men on the four to midnight and midnight to eight shifts into his office. Only four passed inspection.

The 14 with sideburns were sent home, but appealed to their unoin the International Association of Machinists, which set up a meeting with company representatives today to discuss the situation.

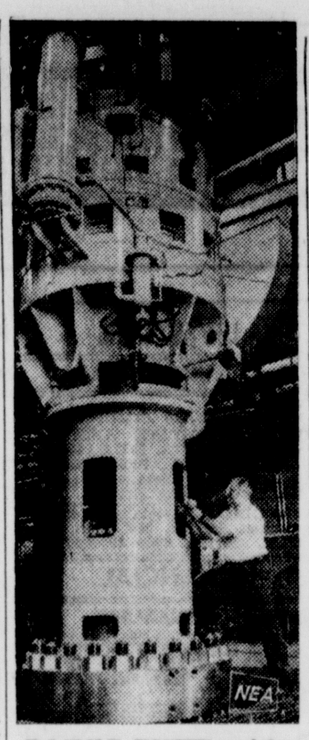

"We're not even seen by the public," said one of the cargo handlers. "Our haircuts are in style right now and we're presentable. That's enough!"

The cargo handlers might be encouraged to learn that a California man who works for the U.S. Navy as a technical illustrator at Point Mugu Pacific Missile Range has won his fight to keep both his job and his long hair.

Richard Beckley was fired seven months ago for what the Navy called "poor taste in appearance evidenced by hair of an undue length, a beard and boots."

Beckley appeared. The U.S. Civil Service Commission's Washington office ordered the Navy to reinstate him.

Beckley now is back at work.

POWER TOWER weighs more than 192,000 pounds and is about 28 feet tall. Powered by a 6,000 horsepower motor, the giant controlled-leakage pump is designed to move 88,500 gallons of water per minute through the reactor of a modern nuclear generating station. Westinghouse employe Joseph J. Autore is dwarfed by the huge pump as he readies it for final testing at Cheswick, Pa.

Vietnam Brig Incident

'Agitators' Transferred In Marine Stockade Riot

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — A U.S. spokesman said today that 40 "agitators" had been moved from the riot-torn Marine brig in an attempt to restore order.

The 40 men were guarded by 120 military police, after being cut off from the other prisoners with a teargas barrage Sunday, then marched to a smaller barbed-wire compound nearby.

Lt. Col. Joseph M. Gambardella, commander of the 300-prisoner brig just northwest of Da Nang, said there were no injuries in an outburst Sunday. It erupted when about 70 parolees and trusties began packing their gear to be moved to another area.

Resentment built up among the other prisoners, a spokesman said, and about 40 began rampaging through the compound.

He said Gambardella sent in his riot force of MPs, and they fired some 20 canisters of tear gas to suppress the riot.

Trouble first broke out in the brig Friday night when many prisoners began a noisy protest against cold food, long delays awaiting trial and prison regulations.

Eight prisoners and one guard were injured, none seriously, Gambardella said.

The prisoners held the compound for nearly 20 hours, freeing 17 inmates in the maximum security cellblock and burning the block down before order was temporarily restored Saturday night.

The Sunday afternoon flareup was over in less than two hours.

An investigation is under way to consider the prisoners' grievances and possible disciplinary action against suspected ringleaders.

The Marine command has refused to grant newsmen permission to interview any of the inmates or guards or to take photographs inside or near the brig.

During Court Appearance

Bushy-Haired Defendant Volunteers To See Barber

A bushy-haired defendant who apparently had heard of the distaste expressed by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff for excessively long tresses on males volunteered today to see his barber before he returns to court Friday for continuation of his hearing on two charges.

David M. Mellinger, 18, of Grimms Bridge was facing the court on charges of driving an auto with a license tag belonging to another vehicle and operating a car without a driver's license. He was cited by the patrol Sunday at 1:10 p.m.

QUESTIONING by the court disclosed that he had paid $15 for the old auto. When the defendant volunteered to dispose of the car, the judge granted him a continuance until Friday. Mellinger had pleaded guilty to both counts.

Mellinger apparently had noted some quizzical looks by the court at his unusually long, curly hair. Out of the blue, he volunteered to get a haircut before returning to court.

"Very good!" the judge commented. "I see that my reputation has preceded me!" On a couple of occasions in the past, the court "suggested" haircuts for long-haired defendants.

SIX MORE traffic defendants were fined and three forfeited appearance bonds.

Gerald T. McDole, 43, of Smiths Ferry RD 1 was fined $10 and costs on a charge of operating a truck with inadequate mud flaps and ordered to pay costs on a charge of failure to apply for an Ohio highway use tax decal. He was cited by the patrol Friday at 11:15 a. m. on Route 39. Johnny T. Taggart, 27, of Painesville paid a fine of $15 and costs after pleading "no contest" to a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited by the patrol Aug. 11 at 11:12 p. m.

Ronald R. Smallwood, 18, of 411 Aten Ave., Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of riding a motorcycle without a protective eye device required by state law. Darrell L. Wallace, 19, of Clark Ave., Wellsville, who was a passenger on Smallwod's motorcycle, forfeited $17.50 on the same charge. They were cited by the patrol Friday at 1:05 p.m. on Route 7.

Michael R. White, 19, of Lisbon RD 3 was fined $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited by the patrol Saturday at 11:15 p.m. on Route 7.

William H. Treleven of 412 Burrows Ave. paid a fine of $10 and costs on a charge of driving left of center. He was cited Friday at 8 p. m. on Anderson Blvd. by Constable Thomas Edgell of Liverpool Township. Donald W. Russell of 1229 Center St., Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of crashing a stop sign on Campground Rd. He was cited by Edgell Sunday at 11:40 p.m..

THE COURT issued a bench warrant for Robert E. Dunlap, 63, of W. 5th St., cited by Edgell Sunday at 11:52 p. m. on a charge of crashing a stop sign at Hess and Campbell Rds.

Two out - of - town motorists cited by the patrol forfeited $27.50 bonds. They were Gregory Voutsikis, 25, of Weirton, accused of speeding Thursday night on Route 7, and Earlene F. Root, 25, of New Bedford, Pa., arrested Friday on Route 7 on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Jessie Collins of Smiths Ferry RD, cited on a public intoxication charge early today after his car hit a fence on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd.," forfeited a $32.50 appearance bond.

Peace, Freedom Party Nominates Eldridge Cleaver

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The Peace and Freedom party nominated Eldridge Cleaver as its presidential candidate Sunday, but rejected his choice for a running mate in favor of regional candidates for vice president.

Cleaver picked Jerry Rubin of New York, head of the Yippies —the Youth International party. But many delegates said Rubin would be unattractive as a serious candidate, so they voted to let each of 20 delegations choose a local vice presidential candidate.

No one said how a vice president would be chosen should the party win the presidency in the November election.

Cleaver, information minister for the Black Panthers, told newsmen that his California-based Negro militant group got together with the Peace and Freedom party in an effort to gain viable political machinery.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services for Bernard Anton Hodapp, 63, a prominent Columbus businessman and civic leader who died here Sunday, will be held Wednesday.

Woman Treated For Smoke After Fire In Midland

Miss Thelma Dawson of 530 Virginia Ave., Midland, was treated for smoke inhalation Sunday afternoon after trying to extinguish a fire at the home of a relative, Mrs. Della Wadsworth of 520 Virginia Ave.

Members of the Midland volunteer department administered oxygen at the scene.

The fire, in a mattress, is believed to have been started by Mrs. Wadsworth's grandchildren, who were playing with matches in a bedroom.

Firemen, who responded to the alarm at 3:58 p. m., dragged the burning mattress from the home. Damage was confined to the mattress and bed clothes.

A lighted cigarette tossed into an air duct of an air-conditioner at the American Legion home at 800 Midland Ave. was extinguished by firemen at 12:58 a. m. today.

There was slight damage to the woodwork, they said.

The mayor, chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation, made the following appointments Saturday.

Credentials — Margaret I. Bowen of Perkasie, Bucks County, and Mayor James H. J. Tate of Philadelphia.

Burglars Take Coins Valued At $200,000

INDEPENDENCE, Ore. (AP) —Burglars took $200,000 in rare coins from the safe of Francis Holt. But they left some of the rartst coins and dropped about half the coins they took, Holt said.

Holt said he fired at the burglars when he saw them as he returned home. He said they were not knowledgeable coin thieves, because "they didn't take some of the rarest coins."

Police on the West Coast were alerted and given a list of the missing coins.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The Federal Water Pollution Control administration has awarded a five-year, $214,150 grant beginning in September to Dr. Gary F. Bennett, associate professor of biochemical engineering at the University of Toledo. The grant makes possible a continuation of a three-year program to train chemical engineers in water pollution control.

Junior Editors Quiz on HORSES

QUESTION: How do you tell the difference between kinds of horses?

ANSWER: We can't tell you about all of them, but we have pictured six which you should be able to recognize. The Arabian is a beautiful and important type, being the ancestor of many other breeds. The small, delicate Arabian has a head different from other horses. The eyes are larger and set lower down. There is a bulge above the eye, giving the profile a "dished" or concave look. The Thoroughbred is the true racehorse; see how long and light his legs are, how long and slender his neck. The Palomino is easily recognized. While his body is cream or gold colored, his mane and tail are "flax," meaning almost pure white. The Pinto, often used by cowboys, is boldly blotched in black and white. You can recognize a pony by his small size. The American Shetland Pony is particularly small and often has a forelock hanging over his head, with a fine, long mane and tail. This is an ideal mount for young riders. An enormous contrast is the Belgian, a huge draft horse used for heavy work. His coat is rich chestnut or bay.

(Linda Rall of Elizabeth, Minn., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)
